According To Government Sources

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form long after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

In offering this view of the President's thinking to newsmen Sunday, the sources did not specify how the watch would be kept. The object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said. It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arms blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role.

Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem. By the terms of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, the United Nations would supervise the verification that Soviet missiles have been withdrawn from the island.

The government sources who discussed Kennedy's position emphasized that he is determined to verify the removal of the weapons by international inspection teams —and that nothing less will be satisfactory.

While the United States and the Soviet Union are reported prepared to have the International Red Cross fill the inspection role originally proposed for the United Nations, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has the power to bar international inspectors from his territory.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan conferred with Castro in Havana over the weekend—presumably in an effort to prod the Cuban leader into accepting at least the fundamentals of an international inspection system.

Mikoyan and Castro met twice Sunday at the government palace. No communiques were issued and Cuban officials gave no hint of the nature of the talks. Mikoyan remained in Havana despite the death of his wife in Moscow Saturday night.

The administration's continuing stress on the necessity of international inspection is being viewed in some quarters as a means of keeping pressure on Castro.

As far as it can be ascertained, the United States has set no deadline on compliance from either Moscow or Havana. Nonetheless Kennedy was understood to feel the United States cannot wait indefinitely.

At the same time, Washington is convinced the missile bases are coming down. Their destruction is almost complete, Edward M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said Sunday in a television interview.

Martin touched, too, on the subject of present concern within the administration when he added: "We still do not know where they (the missiles) are going, or have verification they have left the island or will not be reintroduced."

In another television interview Theodore C. Sorensen, special counsel to Kennedy and one of his chief speechwriters, said the United States has given no formal pledge not to invade Cuba. It will not do so until a satisfactory arrangement regarding Cuban missile sites has been worked out, Sorensen said.

Still Called Tossup

Ohio's Governor Battle Goes Down To The Wire

Senate Race Also Holds Key Interest

3.8 Million Slated To Vote Tuesday In Buckeye Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A jury of about 3.8 million Ohio voters will reach its decision Tuesday on a hammer-and-tongs contest for governor and on a somewhat more subdued race for U.S. senator.

Little if any numerical change is expected in the Ohio congressional delegation which Republicans now control 16-7, but the extra U.S. House seat Ohio picked up in the 1960 census is expected to go to the GOP.

Voter decisions on eight other statewide races will be forthcoming as well as a ruling on one proposed constitutional amendment.

Only one contest appears to have captured public interest. It is the race for governor between Democratic incumbent Michael V. DiSalle, seeking a second four-year term, and Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes. Their rugged battle for top spot in the Buckeye State has gone right down to the wire with most observers calling it a tossup.

Democratic U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, a conservative with a reputation for independence, is a solid re-election favorite over Republican John Marshall Briley of Toledo. Lausche's recent hospitalization because of an illness his aides say was induced by exhaustion does not appear to have affected his role as heavy favorite.

Republican Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati is rated practically a shoo-in for the new post of congressman-at-large over Democrat Richard D. Kennedy of Cleveland. Kennedy, a political unknown, emerged the Democratic nominee last May from a pack of 11 candidates, but Ohio Democratic leaders have ignored him since then, largely because of his conservative civil rights views.

The constitutional issue up for decision was taken directly to the ballot by initiative petition. The sponsor, a large milk company, asserts the amendment would clarify Ohio's confused Sunday-closing law situation by providing that no law or local ordinance could prohibit the Sunday sale of a specific group of goods and services — including milk and milk products.

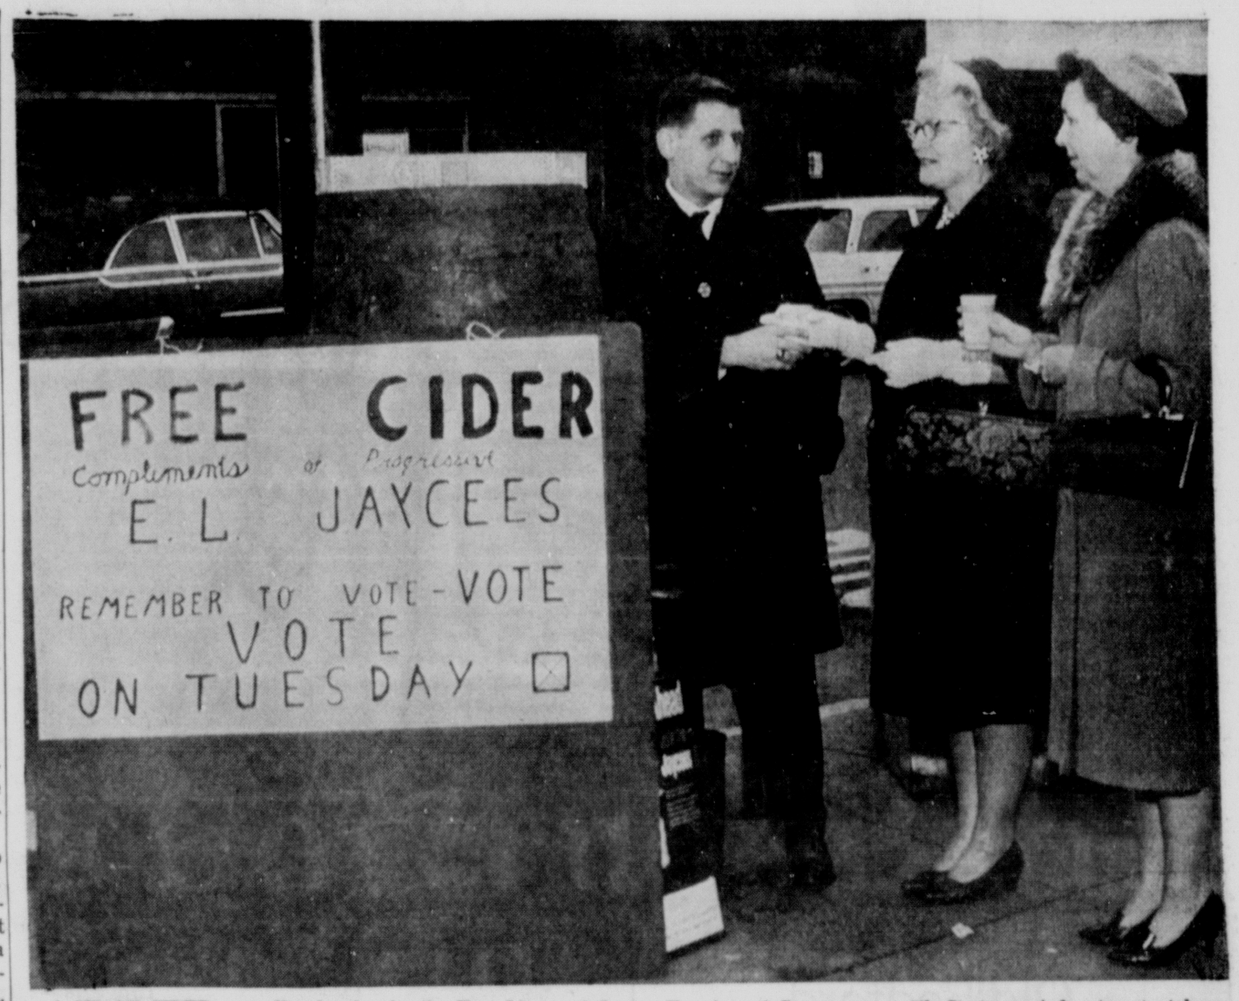

Opponents contend the amendment is a subterfuge designed only to legalize milk and food sales on Sunday. A simple majority is required to write the so-called blue laws amendment into the Ohio Constitution.

For the first time since Ohio changed over from two-year to four-year terms for state officials, all will be elected simultaneously Tuesday. Voters, with all the ruckus in the governor's race, have heard relatively little from the other candidates.

Some of the side issues in the gubernatorial race have been at least temporarily shelved and the nominees for governor have had their traditional Saturday - before-election debate before the City Club in Cleveland. That one-and-only head-to-head encounter of the entire campaign produced little, if anything, new.

So far as the campaign is concerned, at least, a 13-2 vote of the Franklin County grand

East End Man Arrested For Bootleg Case

Police, Agents Raid Virginia Ave. Site, Find Illegal Liquor

A 35-year-old man was arrested on two illicit liquor charges late Saturday night when an East Liverpool police lieutenant and five state agents swooped down on an alleged speakeasy operation in his East End home.

Joseph Moss, 503 Virginia Ave., was charged with possession of untaxed moonshine liquor and illegal whisky sales. He was held in jail over the weekend in default of bond.

Moss, who pleaded guilty when arraigned before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning, was fined a total of $250 and costs and given a suspended 30-day jail term.

Judge Chertoff fined Moss $200 and costs and gave him 30 days in jail on the charge of illegal whisky sales and $50 and costs for possession of untaxed liquor.

He warned the father of four he was suspending the term on condition Moss gets out of the bootleg business.

"If you are picked up again on this charge, you will do this jail term and draw the maximum penalty," Judge Chertoff declared. The maximum is a fine of $100 to $1,000 and one to 6 months in jail, the judge explained.

"I think you are one of a half dozen in East End who have private parties and sell whisky to your friends. You not only break the law but jeopardize the rights of legitimate businesses."

Lt. W. E. McDaniel led five agents of the State Liquor Control Department to the Moss home and the six raided the premises after an unidentified man entered first and allegedly "made a buy" from Moss.

Lt. McDaniel said a still also was found on the premises, but it apparently had not been in use recently. He said a barrel of mash was found, indicating Moss may have intended making whisky.

The bootleg found on the premises was purchased from another source which cannot be revealed immediately, the lieutenant said.

Lt. McDaniel said the raid was the result of several week's investigation and surveillance of the Moss home. He said he notified the state agents when he thought the time was ripe for a raid.

In addition to a quantity of moonshine, the raiders confiscated bottles of whisky which had been purchased at an Ohio State Store, Lt. McDaniel said. A quantity of beer also was found, he said. The drinks were stored in cupboards and drawers in various parts of the house, he said.

The officer alleged that Moss was selling liquor by the bottle or the shot. There were no patrons in the place when the raiding party entered except the man who had gone ahead to make the buy, he said. Moss was found alseep on a couch, he added.

Pastors Back Building Plan At Wellsville

The Wellsville Ministerial Association today took a stand favoring three issues and opposing a fourth that will appear on the ballot at Tuesday's general election.

The association went on record by a majority vote favoring the controversial City Hall - Post Office issue, the new 5-mill school levy for Wellsville and the seven-tenths mill County Home levy.

The association also went on record opposing Issue No. 1, a proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution which would allow sale of certain commodities on Sunday.

The City Hall-Post Office issue appears on the ballot as a 1.9-mill levy for the construction of a new City Hall. The city administration plans to lease a section of the proposed building to the Postal Department at a cost of $9,500 a year.

Wellsville's school levy will provide for increases in salary for instructors.

The meeting was held at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association building. The Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church is president.

Plans also were to be outlined for the annual union Thanksgiving service Nov. 22 at 10 a.m.

Peace Prize Bypassed Till Coming Year

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (Parliament) today announced it had decided not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1962.

The prize money has been reserved for next year, the brief announcement said.

No reason was given for the committee's decision, but in the past the prize has not been awarded in times of great crisis.

Damage Near Million In West Virginia Fire

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Fire swept the Chafin Building in downtown Logan early today, forcing about six families flee their apartments and destroying about 16 offices and business establishments.

Mayor H. H. Cudden estimated damage at between $750,000 and $1 million.

He described it as the worst in the city's history.

Corak Case Delayed

BEAVER — A full court calendar caused delay in a hearing set at 9 this morning for Eli Corak, Midland mayor and Beaver County Democratic chairman, in his move to quash a charge alleging violation of the state election laws with unsigned campaign literature. The court's docket became crowded because some cases were changed as a result of a scheduled closing tomorrow for election day.

Jury Reports No Fraud In Rhodes Case

But DiSalle Blasts GOP Opponent On Missing Records

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County grand jury says it is convinced there are no fraudulent operations in the state auditor's office, but Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he is not.

The Democrat governor seeking re-election fired four questions at his Republican opponent, James A. Rhodes, the state auditor, Sunday in the wake of the grand jury's 13-2 decision that there was no evidence of fraud in the controversial adding machine case.

Last week, DiSalle touched off the investigation by charging fraud in what he claimed was the rental to political subdivisions of state-owned adding machines which examiners used in auditing their books.

The governor said Sunday he would have people at the auditor's office today to complete his examination of records.

"If all the records are not present then," DiSalle said, "we may have to proceed under the law. Records of 1957 and 1958 are still missing from the office, which Mr. Rhodes has said were not lost, but misplaced."

He added his investigation will not end with Tuesday's election.

Then came the governor's questions:

"Why did he (Rhodes) obstruct and harrass the effort to examine his records as provided by law?

"Why did the press agent for the Republican Committee of Cuyahoga County alert City Club officials (in Cleveland) that he was expecting to be able to announce the grand jury verdict during the debate between Rhodes and DiSalle) on Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m.?

"Why did he (Rhodes) try to keep officials from handling the grand jury probe?

"Where are the missing records bearing on the rental of adding machines and why are they missing if they are replaced?"

The grand jury, after 12 witnesses and 24 hours of testimony and deliberation over two days, returned its decision about 7:20 p.m. Saturday. The jurors are sworn to secrecy, but the forelady, Mrs. Ethel Tuttle, said the vote was taken on this question:

"Based on evidence you have

$2,500 Damage Seen In Midland Bar Blaze

About $2,500 damage resulted in a fire Sunday at 8:20 p. m. at the Cantina Bar, 230 Midland Ave., Midland, police reported.

The fire apparently was caused by an overheated furnace, according to firemen. There was damage to joists, ceiling and flooring. Mose Liberatore is the owner.

Nineteen firemen and three trucks answered the call and 350 feet of hose was laid. Two trucks were called out at 8:23 and another one at 9:15. Firemen returned about 10:30.

Negotiations Continue On Pottery Agreement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Contract talks between negotiators for the U. S. Potters Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters were to continue today.

The negotiations for a new two-year contract, expected to set the pattern for the U.S. pottery industry, began last week. The present contract expires Nov. 30.

Moore-Bailey Race Eyed In West Virginia

Still Rated Tossup; Court Contest Only Statewide Battle

By The Associated Press

West Virginians will troop to the polls tomorrow, expecting to find the tighest race in the 1st Congressional District, where incumbent Republican Arch A. Moore Jr., 39, meets incumbent Democrat Cleveland M. Bailey 76.

The two were thrown together by reapportionment which cost West Virginia one seat in the House of Representatives.

Registered Democrats outnumber Republicans in the district by about 3 to 2, but the voters' decision still is rated a tossup.

Statewide, the Democrats hold a registration majority of about 2 to 1.

The only statewide contest pits Democrat Fred H. Caplan of Clarksburg against Republican Max De Berry of Harrisville for the six-year unexpired term of the late Judge Leslie E. Given.

Caplan, a former Public Service Commission chairman, now is serving on the court under interim appointment.

Democratic congressmen in all districts are seeking re-election.

Leaders of both parties have urged a heavy turnout at the polls. Republican State Chairman Howard V. Corcoran said in this state the issue is West Virginia.

"When you vote," he said, "you will be retaining a share in your government."

Officials of both parties warned voters against possible efforts at vote buying by partisans.

Rep. Ken Hechler, Democrat seeking re-election in the fourth district against Republican Clyde B. Pinson of Huntington, was urging — with tongue in cheek—that voters follow suggestions in a pamphlet supporting Pinson.

The literature, headed "Healing Arts Non-Partisan Action Committee", Hechler said, endorsed Pinson and urged voters to "mark your ballot on Nov. 7"—which is one day after the election.

Hechler offered to "arrange for baby-sitters and special transportation for all those who want to go along with this excellent suggestion . . . that the time to vote for my opponent is one day after election day".

In the 2nd district, incumbent Democrat Harley O. Staggers is opposed by Republican Cooper P.

Liquidation Move

Knowles Auction Set For Dec. 3, 4

Operations of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. will be terminated by the end of this month and the company's assets will be liquidated at a public auction Dec. 3-4, W. A. Harris Jr., president, announced today.

Harris said the industrial division of Yoder and Frey, Inc., of Archbold, Ohio, has been given a contract to liquidate the assets.

Shipments of dinnerware will continue this month to fill customers' orders, Harris said.

Operations in the clay shop were suspended last week, but work continues on a large scale in the glazing and decorating departments to complete the large inventories needed to fill customers' requirements, he explained.

STOCKHOLDERS of the company voted two months ago to liquidate the business but final action was delayed in an attempt to sell the company as a going concern to several prospective purchasers.

However, the efforts failed and Yoder and Frey was appointed to handle the liquidation, Harris continued.

In his statement, Harris said shareholders voted to sell the company "because of continuing operating losses being suffered by the corporation, unfavorable labor settlements and tariff changes."

"Due to the present tariff policies which encourage increasing imports of foreign dinnerware producted with low labor costs, it does not seem possible for the operation to become profitable in the foreseeable future," he said.

"KNOWLES is a mass production plant with the most modern equipment in the industry but cannot compete against foreign labor rates of 10 to 20 per cent of the U. S. industry rate."

The Newell company was incorporated in Ohio in 1900 and was re-chartered in West Virginia in 1907.

At one time, more than 1,000 were employed but employment has dropped to between 500 and 600 in recent years.

The plant has more than 350,000 square feet of floor space located on 12 acres of land.

At West End Of Border

Chinese Communists Get Key Indian Military Post

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the battle lines to the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulet Beg Oldi, at the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulet Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdraw to positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a cease-fire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest area of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions.

Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease-fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against "the intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also absolved Peiping of any aggressive intent.

Cold Weather May Help Cut County's Vote

Low Temperatures Expected Tuesday, Forecaster Says

Sunny but cold weather is forecast for Tuesday, a factor that may cut into Columbiana County's turnout for a general election to name state, county and district officers and decide the fate of 26 special questions and issues.

A normal vote of not over 40,000 has been predicted by Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board.

At the county level, interest will center on election of an auditor and a commissioner, along with three County Court judges.

The weatherman said there will be "considerable sunshine" in Northeastern Ohio tomorrow, along with low temperatures. However, no snow is expected, he added.

The 165 polling places in Columbiana County will open at 6:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

Here's a list of the East Liverpool district voting places:

Public Offices Plan Election Day Closing

Some public offices in the East Liverpool area will be closed for the general election Tuesday.

City Hall offices will be closed because a precinct polling place is located in the main corridor. The Courthouse at Lisbon will close at noon.

The Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland will be closed all day. The building serves as a polling site for Precinct 13 in the county seat.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said parking regulations will be enforced until noon, after which meters will be free.

jury late Saturday laid to rest DiSalle's charges of fraud in connection with the purchase of adding machines by examiners employed in auditor Rhodes' office.

A special grand jury called several weeks ago at DiSalle's request to investigate out-of-state allegations of influence peddling in 1959 in connection with the stocking of liquor brands in state stores is in recess until after the election.

DiSalle had an afternoon television question-and-answer telethon scheduled on several stations in major cities today, but Rhodes had no definite plans.

This is the rundown on the other statewide races:

Lieutenant Governor: Republican State Sen. John W. Brown of Medina seeks to return to the post he held for two two-year terms. Hs opponent is John J. Gallagher, Cleveland businessman and former legislator.

Attorney General: William B. Saxbe, Mechanicsburg Republican, is seeking a comeback to the post he lost in the 1958 Democratic landslide. The Democrat is Robert E. Sweeney of Bay Village, son of the late U. S. Rep. Martin L. Sweeney.

Auditor: Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey, Alliance Democrat and son of the late one-time auditor A. Vic Donahey, is opposed by the son of another late one-time auditor, Republican Roger W. Tracy, Columbus, former state treasurer and son of the late Joseph T. Tracy.

Secretary of State: Republican Ted W. Brown of Columbus, veteran secretary of state since 1950, is opposed in his bid for another four-year term by a former Canton mayor, Democrat Charles L. Babcock.

Treasurer: Thomas E. Ferguson, Columbus Democrat and son of the present treasurer, Joseph T. Ferguson, seeks to succeed his father. His Republican opponent is John D. Herbert of Columbus, son of former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert who is retiring from the Ohio Supreme Court.

Three Supreme Court races are on the ballot. Nominees were chosen in party primaries, but they will be on a nonpartisan ballot Tuesday.

The races:

Chief Justice: Democrat Carl V. Weygandt of Lakewood, Ohio's chief justice since 1933, has drawn as his most rugged opposition in years Republican Kingsley A. Taft of Columbus, a member of the court since 1949. Taft was re-elected to the court two years ago for a six-year term.

Court Term Beginning Jan. 1: John M. Matthias, Republican member of the court since 1954, faces opposition by Democrat James J. Mayer of Mansfield, Common Pleas Court judge in Richland County.

Court Term Beginning Jan. 2: Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, former Republican lieutenant governor, is a candidate to succeed Republican Thomas J. Herbert who is retiring. They are not related. Springfield Municipal Court Judge Richard T. Cole is the Democratic nominee.

Control of the General Assembly is at stake in Tuesday's election. All seats in the House are up for grabs with Republicans expected to retain their majority.

Cast Your Ballot Tomorrow!

Except for a few last-minute appeals by the candidates, the campaigns are at an end and the voters are about to take over under the American form of two-party government.

Key offices and key issues are at stake in Tuesday's general election, from the statehouse at Columbus down to the county level at Lisbon.

And regardless of what pressures may have been exerted, regardless of what this newspaper and that newspaper and other sources may have recommended and regardless of what your next door neighbor may have said over the last few months, when you vote Tuesday you vote as a free-thinking American citizen. The final decisions you make on the issues and the candidates are yours and yours alone.

There will be no Khrushchev or no Castro breathing down your neck. There will be no armed troops patrolling the polling places. You will be on your own.

Voting under such circumstances is a privilege you should cherish. Only through your interest and direct participation, however, can there be assurance that this privilege will continue.

Go to the polls Tuesday. Your vote or your failure to vote could mean the difference between victory or defeat for the candidate of your choice.

That's Progress

By Truman Twill

The autumn chore men dread most, if they do their own housework, is putting up storm windows.

There isn't a householder who hasn't paused in the performance of this disagreeable job to wonder aloud, in a voice that could be heard a mile away, "Why in the name of —!!&;—!! doesn't some genius figure out a way to get rid of these things?"

Many geniuses have tried and several have succeeded. There are storm windows that are painless and there are ways to keep down heating bills that are better than the best storm windows. But for householders who will continue to put them up in the fall and take them down next May there is this small wisp of comfort, offered herewith.

It has been proved by men with deep courage and high ideals that storm windows are as useful for keeping out heat in summer as for insulating window areas against chill in winter.

The same principle — a layer of entrapped air — keeps a house cool that keeps a house warm. Storm windows provide insulation in all seasons.

Do householders of great wealth who can afford windows with double panes of glass that provide insulation without using storm windows object to using them 12 months a year? Of course not.

They consider themselves lucky to have a good thing going for them.

What, then, of householders of moderate circumstances who use storm windows for the same effect; why shouldn't they consider themselves lucky?

Thoughts like these have gone through my mind year after year as the storm window chore fell due. They have occurred as commonly in connection with window screens as with storm windows, incidentally.

What is the sense of installing a screen in every window when some windows are never opened and some that are opened wouldn't need to be opened?

What is the sense of taking down and putting up this paraphernalia when a logical solution would be to think of certain windows as permanent, fixed and unchangeable?

This is to report to other householders who have wondered the same thing that they are missing a bet if they don't act on their impulse. Let well enough alone next May when it's time to take out storm windows and put in screens.

Let some of the storm windows stay there, Mac. If she asks about it, tell her they're jammed. Give her the benefit of the doubt by washing them on the outside and suggesting it's her job to keep them clean on the inside.

By the end of July she will quit squawking. Keep a record of men in the community who have hurt themselves fooling with storm windows, including some who perished without having enough insurance to attract replacements.

It works.

By this time next year a third of the storm windows at our house will not have been removed for at least one year, some having remained untouched for three years. Moreover, she is half-convinced the story about insulating the house against summer heat is plausible. She no longer mutters, "Knock it off" — and that's progress.

U Thant Is No Powder Puff

By Saul Pett

UNITED NATIONS

He sits impassively at the council table, round-faced, serene, his thoughts well concealed behind heavy eyelids, a picture of impeccable blandness in a snarling world.

He listens to the invective of the cold war and the threat of Armageddon, but the ominous oratory appears to flow harmlessly past him like an angry wind beating futilely against the clam face of a church statue.

He follows the text of the bombast, his eyes lowered, his right index finger lightly touching his lips as if, by this unconscious gesture, he was trying to hush some of the world's harshness.

WITH THE same composure, with a serenity that belied the urgency of his words, U Thant, acting secretary general of the United Nations, spoke out in the storm over Cuba. He appealed to the United States and Russia for a temporary suspension of all action and counteraction on Cuba.

"If today the United Nations should prove ineffective it may have proved itself so for all time."

No one doubted Thant's sincerity as he addressed the Security Council. His words reflected profound crisis and the edge of doom but they were delivered with a spectacular lack of spectacle, with the even tempo of a librarian quietly checking off a new inventory.

In public or private stress — and he has seen much of both the last year — U Thant of Burma has proved a man of remarkable control. He replaced Dag Hammarskjold last year in a moment of deep crisis.

His term as acting secretary general, which expires April 10, remains full of profound conflict. But Thant today is as unruffled as when he began.

It was to this quiet, neat, dark-skinned man that the United Nations turned last fall in the gloom and confusion that followed Hammarskjold's death and the Russian introduction of the Troika idea. When East and West finally agreed on Thant for the remainder of Hammarskjold's term, the Burmese was widely regarded as a powderpuff compromise. The mood then seemed to be to grab at any innocuous symbol of harmony as long as the walls didn't cave in.

THE WALLS didn't cave in and the powder puff turned out to be made of sterner stuff. He quickly indicated that, like Hammarskjold, he felt the role of secretary general should be one of positive assertion, not merely that of a decorous sergeant at arms.

It was this same concept of vigorous leadership, which operated when Thant stepped into the Cuban crisis and tried to stay the hands of the two cold war giants.

Like Hammarskjold, Thant has worked for a strong policy in the Congo, to buttress the central government, to end the Katanga secession and to immunize the Congo as a whole against the viruses of the cold war. This policy at times has been critized in both the East and West.

He has spoken out for a strong assertive United Nations and suggested the time is at hand when individual nations may have to give up some of their sovereignty to make it effective.

In the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea, he was credited with a large part in achieving a settlement.

In Moscow, he said the Russian people were not getting all the facts about the Congo. In Warsaw, he said the world cannot risk "wasting time in hairsplitting" over ways to end nuclear testing and added, "The hydrogen bomb is a greater evil than any evil it is intended to meet."

In Helsinki, he said dealing with officials of Katanka was like trying to negotiate with a "bunch of clowns." In several places, he has pushed his bond drive for U.N. solvency. In many places, he has said it is time the two "giants" — the United States and Russia — must begin negotiating with greater frankness and stop immediately assuming, by reflex action, that any idea advanced by the other side is perforce villainous.

In many ways, he has proven the most outspoken secretary general United Nations has had.

A Look At The Congressional Elections

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Four separate predictions as to the outcome of the congressional elections are being discussed in political circles. Each would have a different impact on the trend of American business.

David Lawrence

First, the present Democratic party margin in both houses could be retained without any gain for the Democrats.

Second, Republicans could make small gains in the House of Representatives and perhaps even in the Senate.

Third, the Republicans could make substantial gains in both houses.

Fourth, the Democrats could increase their margin in both houses.

If there is virtually no change in the margin of the parties, business will be encouraged. It will mean that the existing coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans in Congress will continue to restrain to a large extent the experimentalism and radicalism of the Democratic party's quasi-socialistic bloc. Business would be encouraged and stimulated.

If the Democrats increase their margin in both houses, business will be discouraged and there will be renewed talk of deflation and a possible recession in 1963, with more unemployment.

If the Republicans make small gains, business will receive its first big stimulus in the last two years.

Businessmen will feel that the stronger coalition of Republicans and Democrats in Congress — which is anti-radical — will prevent any legislative hostility to the free-enterprise system and to the upward movement of the markets of the country.

Should the Republicans accomplish a landslide — which seems improbable — the favorable effect on business will be even greater.

But what really will happen? Public opinion polls are not available because nobody has polled every district, and, of course, nationwide polls by party are meaningless in measuring the trend in congressional campaigns.

A BIG MAJORITY in New York City, for instance, may increase the Democratic percentage across the country, but it would not foretell the large number of Republican seats that could be won by narrow margins in various districts composed of small towns and rural areas.

Many people are asking if the Cuban situation will affect the election results. This is doubtful, as the problem has not been clarified and probably will not be by election day.

Resolute action by a president on the international front is of limited popularity, no matter what the circumstances. For, due to economic factors, the people are inherently anti-war. No president could have fought World War I more vigorously or resolutely than Woodrow Wilson did. In October 1918, he had addressed a public appeal to the country to give him a Democratic Congress. He said the Republicans had been "pro-war but anti-administration." He warned that the rest of the world would regard a defeat of the Democratic party in Congress as "a repudiation of my leadership." He argued that, through a victory of his party, he could "continue to be the unembarrassed spokesman in affairs at home and abroad."

Yet, on Nov. 5, 1918 — when the war was in the critical days of its final stage and victory seemed to be in sight — the American people defeated the Democratic party, which had a majority in both houses of Congress. The Republicans gained 21 seats in the House and 6 seats in the Senate to wrest control from the Democrats in both houses.

BUT THE VOTERS were really anti-war and resented the disruption of American economic life by a war 3,000 miles away from the United States. The same thing happened in 1946, when the voters showed their resentment over economic conditions growing out of World War II.

Though President Truman had successfully steered the country to a victorious conclusion of the war, the Democratic party was defeated and the Republicans took over control of both houses.

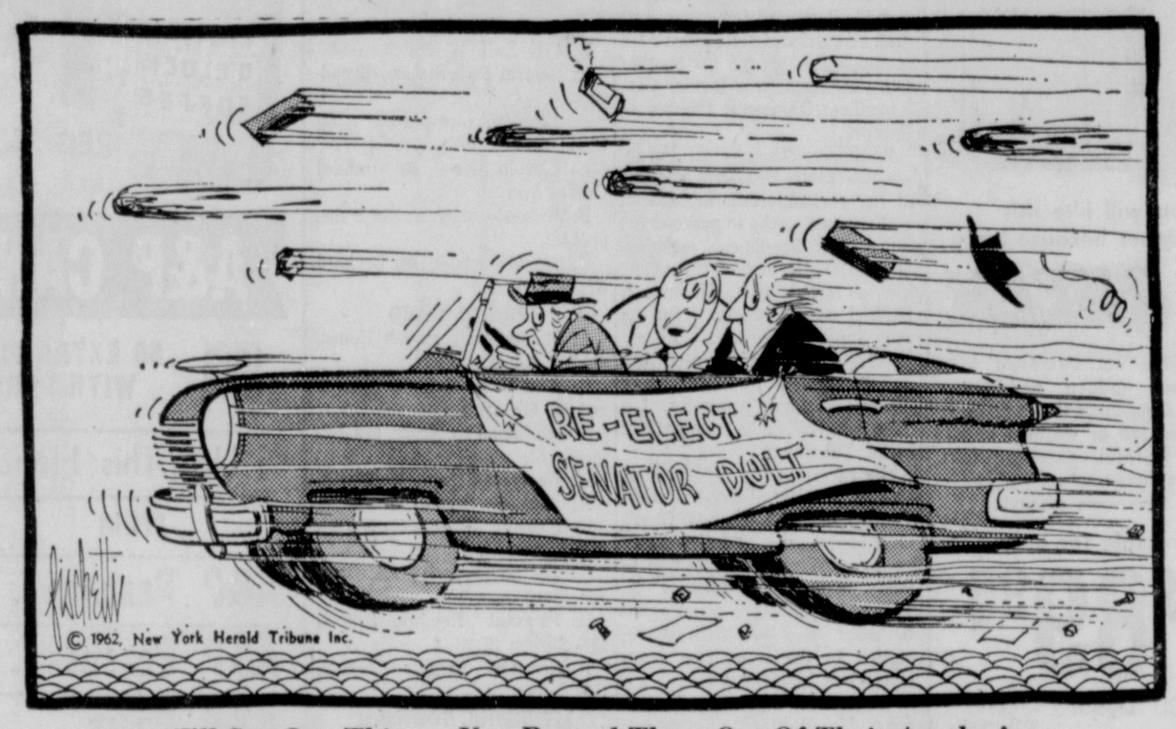

Somewhat the same feeling was revealed over the Korean War, when the Democrats in 1950 lost seats in both houses.

Many observers have felt that in 1952 the Korean War was really an issue and helped produce a Republican presidential and congressional victory. Anti-war feeling, incidentally, does not necessarily reflect a point of view on the international issues themselves, but is largely the result of economic disruption and discontent.

Today, America's relations with the Soviet Union are tense. But if President Kennedy emerges as a peacemaker and were himself running for office, it would help the Democratic cause. A congressional election in which international questions are not clear cut, while domestic issues have been producing widespread discontent, could make the presidential influence quite incidental. Pocketbook issues, therefore, are paramount. In a disturbed economic situation, the disgruntled citizens usually vote against the party in power and blame it for the nation's ills.

ECONOMIC DISCONTENT is, therefore, the key factor today. Because economic conditions are spotty and not uniformly good or bad throughout the country, the impact on this congressional election does not permit of any conclusion in advance, except that the election will be close.

A gain on the Republican side would not be surprising, whereas a Democratic gain would, indeed, be very surprising and could prove a disturbing factor in the business world. The chances are the status quo in the relative position of the parties in Congress will be maintained.

'I'll Say One Thing—You Roused Them Out Of Their Apathy.'

Reds Still Are Producing For Castro

By VICTOR RIESEL

UNITED NATIONS

There is on the shores of the Black Sea a huge plant which the Russians, with quaint touch and red brush, have named the "January Uprising Factory." Its biggest, and only customer, but hardly for cash, is Cuba. Judging from what the January Uprising people make and ship, Castro hardly is thinking of going out of the war business. Assembling, si. Dismantling, no.

Victor Riesel

That January Uprising installation is merely one of a complex of 18 massive plants in the Odessa harbor area which produce for Cuba. "Uprising" makes 12-ton capacity cranes adapted for special construction work—quite capable of military construction.

From that industrial park, the Cubans are getting radial drilling equipment adapted for tropical climate, varied milling machinery, large tractors, as well as medical facilities and special motion picture machines for propaganda operations.

All this material—hardware easily convertible for military use—which comes from the Odessa interlocked factory complex, is mighty complex. So the Russians have imported hundreds of young Cubans for training there.

Soon these young men will replace the Soviet technicians who are being "dismantled."

THE CUBANS also will be able to handle all types of automatic equipment, cranes, tractors, electric motors, agricultural machinery, road-construction apparatus and chemicals. These are on the docks awaiting loading in the big part of Leningrad.

It is from there that the vessel Kislovodsk sailed originally. The Kislovodsk was one of the ships recalled by the Soviets to keep its secret cargo from being inspected by our warships.

But the other material, that of the January Uprising factory and that now on the Leningrad docks, will not be turned back—unless American seaman and longshoremen can block the shipments. And our waterfront workers certainly will try.

Their "Blockade" has not and will not soon be called off. For them action is just beginning. They can not, of course, affect or hamper Russian cargo carriers. But our waterfront workers and seagoing men can cripple the Soviet's effort to use ships of other nations.

AND THE RUSSIANS desperately need these foreign ships. The USSR merchant fleet alone can't take the strain of becoming a long water ferry from Leningrad and Odessa to Havana. Not without crippling Russia's other supply lines. Not without reneging on its commitments elsewhere across the world.

Already the Russians have had to reorganize their ocean transport. They have created something called the "Soyuzveshtrans"—a single center to control export and import of all cargo. But they need ships and more ships.

At the moment the Yugoslavs are building 23 tankers for Russia. The Japanese have 63 vessels an order from the Russians. And the Soyuzveshtrans wants at least 20 more—though the Japanese are still working on the first 18 of the ordered lot. Six more tankers are being rushed in Italy, and additional cargo carriers in Sweden, Denmark and West Germany.

Obviously the Soviets would not be spending hundreds of millions of dollars in hard foreign exchange if they did not need the carriers. And while awaiting delivery, they are chartering some 500 ships from non-Communist nations.

IT IS THIS varied fleet which Joe Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, wants boycotted by sailors of the free world. Curran launched that boycott almost two months ago.

He still is pushing it through the International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) high council, with global headquarters in London, has rejected his bid to call a world boycott.

ITF general secretary, Pieter de Vries, wrote me the other day to say that such a move against Cuba would be political. Remembering that ITF members recently had boycotted Spain-bound ships, De Vries said that this was different. Spanish workers were on strike, he wrote, and thus the boycott was "industrial" action in support of the Spanish strikers.

De Vries appears to have forgotten that Castro has executed or imprisoned anti-Communist labor leaders.

This story is not complete without a report on the American dockworkers' action. They have immobilized 26 ships, the International Longshoremen's Association leader, Teddy Gleason, tells me.

THIS IS A COSTLY matter for the longshoremen. Had they handled ships which have been carrying Soviet or Cuban cargoes before coming into U.S. ports, they would have earned over $260,000 in regular pay. The boycott has cost them their wages. And longshoremen don't have cash reserves.

Their New York national headquarters has become an information center for shipping brokers.

These agents constantly call for information on the history of hundreds of ships so they can avoid chartering those vessels which have made a dollar or a peso or a ruble from the Communists.

Soon it will be unprofitable for shipowners to deal with the Russians or Castro.

There is a real blockade after all—unseen though it is.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is a message of vital importance to every young family in East Liverpool.

To retain good school teachers and secure qualified personnel to instruct our children, it will be necessary to pay these individuals such a rate that they will not be hired away from our community by others who have the foresight to pay better wages.

We are presently paying one of the lowest wage scales in the state for a community of this size, and even lower than many smaller communities. We get many qualified young teachers, only to lose them shortly after they have proved their ability and value to us.

If your children and ours are to have the opportunity to excell, we must provide them with a solid educational foundation that starts in Grade I. This we will never do if we do not see fit to pay and retain an excellent teaching staff.

We as young members of this community (most of us with children of primary school age) ask that all other young families join with us in voting for the proposed school levies. Please influence grandparents as well to do this.

Not only is the future of our children at stake, but the future of our community as well, for a strong school system can be an attraction to industry and residence, a weak school system can detract from a community.

(The above letter is signed by members of the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce.)

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In view of the proposed constitutional amendment which will come before the voters Tuesday, Ohio Seventh-Day Adventist ministers attending a convention at Mt. Vernon Nov. 1 reaffirmed the church's official position toward Sunday Blue Laws.

East Liverpool Seventh-Day Adventists stated: "We believe that legalized Sunday observance is contrary to our understanding of Biblical principles.

"From a scriptural viewpoint, the traditional observance of Sunday is not substantiated since the Bible teaches the observance of the seventh day (Saturday) as a holy, sanctified day of rest instead of the first day (Sunday) of the week.

"We believe that Christian conduct in reference to matters of faith and practice should be voluntary. Jesus Christ did not teach or endorse enforced religion either by the laws of the state or the church. Coerced or enforced Sunday laws removed this freedom of choice from the individual.

"We believe that Sunday laws are a form of legalism and thus contrary to the gospel of Christ, which declares that salvation is by grace.

"Based on the same principle, we would oppose a Saturday law just as emphatically."

Pastor Euler concluded, "We believe in our American idea of government and the constitutional principle on which our republic is founded and we honor the man who stood so nobly for the principles of civil and religious liberty. Their principles are our principles.

"We believe in the total separation of the church and the state and are unalterably opposed to any civil legislation which tends to the union of the two. Sunday laws which have their roots in religious legislation pose a threat to religious liberty."

Crashes Hurt Canton Man, Toronto Pair

Two from Toronto and a Canton man were injured in two separate accidents Sunday on Route 7, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said the first mishap was at 4:45 p. m. at the north intersection with Route 213 at Yellow Creek.

A car driven by George Skoulikaris, 52, of Canton was forced off the highway and into an embankment by an oncoming car. He suffered a laceration of the head.

Skoulikaris was headed south. A traffic control sign had been knocked down and the oncoming vehicle was in the wrong lane at the section of Route 7 which is being relocated, officers said.

Cars driven by Ed Sprouse, 69, of Bloomingdale and Albert S. Miller, 56, of Main St., Toronto were involved in a crash at 6:45 p. m. at the south junction of Route 7 and 213 just north of Steubenville.

Officers said Sprouse, who was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, pulled from Route 213 onto Route 7. He crossed the first lane of the four-lane section and then halted.

His car was hit in the left side by Miller's.

Officers said Miller suffered lacerations of the jaw and bruises of the chest while a passenger, Leona Miller of Federal St., Toronto, suffered severe lacerations of the face and a fracture of the right arm.

Meanwhile, a Wellsville motorist and three others were hospitalized as the result of a two-car collision Saturday morning at 3:30 at the intersection of Route 7 and Stoney Hollow Blvd. in the north end of Steubenville.

Frank Netti, 1007 Commerce St., is in "fair" condition today at the Ohio Valley Hospital at Steubenville with cuts of the nose and scalp. His car and one driven by Kenneth Swiger of Mingo Junction were involved in the mishap.

Ray Redmond of Toronto and Ted Sawon of Steubenville R. D. 1, passengers in Netti's car, also are in "fair" condition at the hospital.

Swiger's wife, Mrs. Betty Swiger, also in "fair" condition at the hospital with injuries suffered in the crash. Dwight Wright of Toronto also was a passenger in the Swiger car.

Netti and his two companions had gone bowling in Steubenville after working the 4 p. m. to midnight shift at a Toronto plant

Band Receives $307 In Stanton 'Tag Day'

Stanton Local School District residents contributed $307.30 in a Tag Day project held Saturday by the 65-piece band of Stanton Local High School.

Mrs. Alice Pilutti of Irondale, president of the Band Boosters, said the contributions swelled the fund for new uniforms to about $1,100.

Residents who were away from their homes Saturday may leave donations with Mrs. Lola Tolson of Irondale, chairman of the project. Mrs. Pilutti thanked residents for their co-operation in the fund-raising effort.

Brown Ahead In Poll; Nixon Will Go On TV

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An independent poll favoring Gov. Edmund G. Brown set the stage today for a dramatic finale to Richard M. Nixon's battle for the governorship of California and a political comeback.

Nixon, while "supremely confident," suddenly cancelled a series of pep-up visits to Los Angeles campaign headquarters for a no-text appearance on a statewide television network tonight.

Brown said Nixon's 11th hour decision "is an admission that he is a beaten man."

The setting, if nothing else, recalled Nixon's 1952 "Checkers" broadcast. His eloquent defense of an $18,000 private campaign fund helped save his place as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate.

Nixon said Sunday night he wanted to answer personal attacks against him by Brown and to disclose the reasons behind them.

His announcement came shortly after newspapers published the findings of the California Poll taken Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The results showed Brown ahead, 48 to 41 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided. The Sept. 27 poll also tilted toward the Democratic governor, 48-42-10.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the poll by the Mervin Field Organization had nothing to do with the last-minute change of plans.

If Brown had any major new charges to toss out, there was no hint of it in excerpts of remarks distributed in advance of the governor's final 11-city flying tour today.

In the prepared statement, the 57-year-old governor appealed for a massive vote to "demonstrate the unity of Californians" behind his program.

Wellsville Officers Cite Toronto Driver

A Toronto area man was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after a two-car crash Saturday at 5:20 p.m. at 18th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville, police said.

Charles S. Taylor of Toronto R.D. 2 is scheduled to receive a hearing today before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

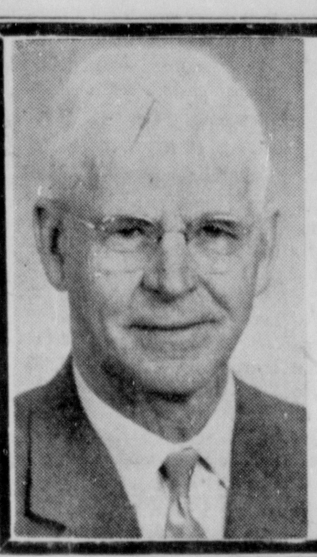

Taylor was involved in a crash with a car driven by Donald W. Glenn of Glenmoor. Officers said Glenn started to make a turn and was struck by Taylor, who started to pass.

Construction Begins For Church Addition

PUGHTOWN — Brief ground-breaking ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon at the site of a new 5,000 educational addition to be constructed at the Pughtown Christian Church.

Atty. Edwin Flowers is chairman of the finance committee. About half of the necessary funds to erect the addition have been collected. The Rev. Gerald Dietch, pastor, was in charge of the program.

The ground-breaking featured an all-day homecoming celebration. Members of the congregation wore old-fashioned costumes.

Union Attacks Pastors' Poll

BEAVER — A union leader has criticized as "interfering" and "meddling" an attempt by three Beaver County clergymen to poll sentiment of striking workers at the Koppers Co. Kobuta plant.

Earl W. Timmons, president of Local 8-74, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, declared that the "union is fully competent to carry out the instructions of its membership without the interference of professional do-gooders."

He referred to the mailing of ballots to the 615 workers, who have been on strike since May 1 and on Oct. 25 rejected by a 2-1 margin the company's "last offer," — one that had been recommended by federal and state mediators.

If I had a chance to vote again I would vote 'Yes' or 'No' stated the ballots mailed with a letter signed by Father Marcus O'Brian, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Beaver; Dr. D. M. Nesbitt, pastor of Park United Presbyterian Church in Beaver, and Rabbi David Shapiro of Agudath Synagogue in Beaver Falls.

Union officials are considering a plea made Friday by Stephen Schlossberg, assistant director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, urging the strikers reconsider their rejection of the settlement proposals.

Sharks follow the faintest scent of blood and are attracted to a thrashing object.

175 Attend Methodist Youth Area Rally At Lisbon Church

Over 175 youths and adult advisors attended a rally of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Sunday afternoon at the Lisbon Methodist Church. Eighteen churches of the subdistrict were represented.

A panel discussion on the theme, "Family on Trial," was featured, with Probate Judge Louis Tobin as moderator.

The Rev. Irwin Jennings, pastor of Calvary Methodist Church of East Liverpool, and Mrs. William Dunlap of Steubenville, co-director of Family Life in the Steubenville District, portrayed the roles of youths for the program.

Susan Moore, president of the Senior High Youth of the First Methodist Church of East Liverpool, and Roger Hicks of Fisher Park, subdistrict youth president, portrayed the roles of parents.

The moderator queried the panel on a number of teen-age-parent problems and on typical domestic situations submitted by the audience.

Dr. Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and affiliated with the Child Counseling Center, presented a summary of the discussion and a reaction report from a professional viewpoint. He emphasized the importance of "togetherness" in family life.

Charlotte Clark, Northeast Ohio Conference representative to the Ohio Student Youth Movement and subdistrict faith chairman, offered prayer. James Lang read Scripture and gave a meditation on "Love — the Solid Foundation of a Christian Home." The Rev. John L. Clark led group singing. All are of East Liverpool.

The Rev. William L. Brown of the Lisbon church, subdistrict advisor, gave the offering prayer. The First Methodist MYF of East Liverpool conducted devotions. Refreshments were served by the youth of the host church, with Paul Morgan of Lisbon, subdistrict vice president, in charge.

Subdistrict officers will meet Dec. 2 with Hicks of S. Surrey Rd., to plan for a spring rally.

REPUBLICANS!

Independents!

Tomorrow ... YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO elect JOHN J. CARRIGG YOUR CONGRESSMAN

. . . . because Jeffersonian Democrats and Independent Voters, too, have learned in this campaign that JOHN J. CARRIGG is an exceptionally well educated man who knows what American Government and Political Morality is all about. They have learned that JOHN J. CARRIGG stands head and shoulders above the ordinary.

. . . . because Jeffersonian Democrats and Independent Voters, too, now understand the implications behind the political advertising of the incumbent Congressman, they also understand why we should

Money - and "Suggests" More If RE-ELECTED

. . . . To suggest that progress of the 18th District of Ohio depends upon Federal "GIFTS" is an affront to the intelligence of the people of the 18th District.

. . . . the Ohio River Compact was signed by the bordering states eleven years before our present Congressman was a candidate. The plans to improve the navigation facilities of the Ohio River and the plans to eliminate stream pollution had gone forward under two former Congressmen and during former Democrat and Republican administrations.

... And It Will Continue To Go Forward Regardless

We FRIENDS of DR. JOHN J. CARRIGG believe that it would be to the best interests of Columbiana County, the 18th District of Ohio and the United States (particularly foreign affairs) to elect a fresh new Congressman—one well qualified by education and experience to represent us in Congress with DIGNITY and with a HIGH standard of political MORALITY and PURPOSE.

That is why so many people in Columbiana County are going to vote for:

Look Toward 1964

Republicans Eye Governor Posts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high hopes today of winning key governors' posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 169,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m., EST, Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

President Kennedy was scheduled to fly to Boston late today to cast his ballot there Tuesday for his brother, Edward M. Kennedy, who is rated a sure winner in the Massachusetts race for the President's old Senate seat.

The White House said the First Lady has cast an absentee ballot and will not make the trip.

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races, Democrats 16. This could alter radically the present bases of power in the states where presidential elections are won or lost.

The GOP now holds the governorships of only 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are no contests this year in 13 of these with 152 electoral votes.

Because their chances of making any substantial gains in the House and Senate races appear dim, Republicans are looking to the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge toward the 1964 presidential battle but to point toward a possible nominee to oppose President Kennedy.

An Associated Press survey indicated that Republicans have a slight edge in efforts to take away Democratic seats in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

The GOP is credited with the advantage in trying to hold on to party governorships in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii. The loss of New Hampshire would be regarded as an upset. GOP victories in New York, Maine and Vermont seem certain.

Local correspondents give the Democrats a small margin in efforts to hold on to the statehouses in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Ohio, North Dakota and Texas. They list greater certainty of retaining executive offices in Rhode Island, Maryland, Nevada and Alaska.

Democratic retention of the governorships of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee is certain.

Only in New Mexico do the Democrats seem to have a good chance to turn out a Republican governor.

The governor races in New York, California, Pennsylvania and Michigan are drawing the lion's share of attention from both Republicans and Democrats.

In New York, GOP Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller probably has to win big over Robert M. Morgenthau to preserve his position as a top prospect for the 1964 party nomination to oppose Kennedy.

In California, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is staking his political life on the outcome of his battle with Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In Pennsylvania, Rep. William W. Scranton could make himself a rising star in the Republican party by winning the governorship in his race against Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

In Michigan, George Romney, the former compact car man, could rise to challenge Rockefeller and others for the prize two years from now with a victory over Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson.

In Senate races, local oddsmakers credit the Democrats with varying possibilities of winning present Republican seats in Connecticut, Kentucky, Maryland, South Dakota, Utah and Wisconsin.

Republicans also have chances of knocking off Democrats in Colorado, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. The signs are so jumbled in all nine of these states that the Senate outcome could be almost a dead heat if allowances were made for possible upsets in other close contests. Democrats now control the Senate by a 64-36 margin.

The rundown on House contests gives the Republicans almost no hope of winning control of that body. They might pick up a half-dozen seats but that would still leave them on the short end of a 255-180 count.

heard of the rental purchase transactions about which testimony was given, does this constitute a violation of section 2921.-14?"

County Prosecutor Earl Allison, who conducted the investigation, said the section deals with conspiracy to defraud the state.

Sunday, both Rhodes and DiSalle demanded apologies. Neither received them.

The auditor called on the governor to apologize to "hundreds of state examiners" the GOP candidate said were cleared of the charges and "to confess that this was a sinister political plot contrived by you (DiSalle) as an eleventh hour smear in an effort to retrieve the thousands of voters who now repudiate you and your tactics."

In Cleveland, DiSalle said:

"It would seem to me that the auditor owes an apology to his own examiners whose money gifts he has been accepting and using for personal purposes, according to his own admission.

"These examiners only reflect the arm-twisting tactics of their superiors. I am sure that the examiners are not willingly engaging in this systematic method of giving."

The case went to the grand jury after two independent accounting firms, Ernst & Ernst and Price Waterhouse, were called by Rhodes to examine his records. They said there was no evidence of fraud and DiSalle had Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy request the grand jury to investigate the issue.

3 More Americans Die In Viet Nam War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —The war in Viet Nam has brought death to three more Americans.

Two U.S. Air Force pilots were killed early today in the crash of a Vietnamese air force B26 fighter-bomber believed brought down by Communist ground fire. A U.S. soldier was killed Sunday night by grenade presumably thrown by a Communist.

The deaths raised to 37 the number of Americans killed in Viet Nam since last December.

Officers Cite Man As Auto Rams 2 Poles

A Tuscarawas County man was cited on a reckless driving charge Sunday afternoon after his auto went out of control on Harvey Ave. near the state line, crashed into a utility pole, then rebounded and hit another about 30 yards away, police reported.

M. E. Fondriest, 20, of Dennison told police he was driving west about 50 to 60 miles an hour when his 1953 two-door sedan went out of control. The crash, timed at 1 p. m., caused heavy damage to the left front and rear of the auto, police said.

Fondriest, who had been released to appear today, failed to show up in Municipal Court.

A collision Sunday at 4:57 p. m. on Ohio Ave. damaged a 1959 auto driven by Harley Conley, 35, of 6 Auburn Pl. and a 1960 model compact sedan driven by Lawrence Skrinjar of Box 304, Wellsville, officers said.

Reynold A. Peduzzi Jr. of Anderson Blvd., assistant high school football coach, told police the left rear quarter panel of his 1960 two-door was damaged by a hit-skip car about 2 p. m. while parked at Patterson Field. Damage was estimated at $50.

Margie M. Miller, 37, of 1223 Cora St., told police the left rear bumper of her 1959 model two-door was damaged in a mishap Saturday at 7:45 p. m. at W. 6th St. and Peach Alley. The woman motorist told police her auto was parked when it was bumped by another auto proceeding through Peach Alley and turning onto W. 6th St. The other motorist did not report to headquarters, police said.

A mishap on E. 4th St. Saturday at 11:02 a. m. involved a 1959 four-door sedan driven by John Cocoran, 50, of 374 Indiana Ave., Chester, and a 1960 model import operated by Donald E. Davis, 23, of Pittsburgh, police said.

Cocoran told police he was driving east on E. 4th St. when Davis pulled out of an alley near the high school. There was damage to the right rear door and fender of the Davis car and the front bumper of the Davis auto, police said.

15,000 May Ballot In Hancock Tuesday

A turnout of 15,000 was forecast today for Hancock County's general election Tuesday by County Clerk Donard Stewart in New Cumberland.

Stewart predicted 70 per cent of the county's 21,470 registered voters will turn out to help decide the winners of three Courthouse posts that are among races on the "short" ballot.

Polls will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. in each of the county's 39 precincts in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland, Pughtown and Weirton.

Eligible to vote are 13,811 Democrats, 7,607 Republicans and 52 others.

Pair Escapes In Auto Upset Over Hillside

A young Wellsville area driver and a passenger in his car escaped injury when their car veered wide in turning onto Route 39 near Highlandtown Sunday night and overturned down an embankment — one of three district mishaps reported over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

John W. Wilson, 16, of Wellsville R.D. 1 was headed northwest on Bolivar Rd. and was turning onto Route 39 at the sharp junction when the 1955 sedan went over an embankment and overturned.

Officers said Wilson and John Scott Porter of Irondale were unhurt, and damage to the auto was moderate. The mishap occurred at 8:15 p.m.

Dan Culver, 19, of New Middletown and another youth were unhurt when their car rammed a utility pole after attempting to avoid hitting a skunk of Route 7 about a mile north of Route 14 early Sunday morning.

Culver and Richard Bolkanovich, 19, also of New Middletown, escaped injury. The driver was charged with speeding.

Two were injured in a three-car collision on Route 62 near Westville Sunday about 5:45 p. m., officers said.

A car operated by Charles Hartman, 31, of New Kensington, Pa., had halted for another auto driven by Patricia Close, 16, of Beloit R.D. who was making a turn, when Hartman's auto was rammed from behind by a pick-up truck driven by Ray Mayberry, 24, of Jonesville, Mich.

Hartman's car was knocked into the other auto. Florence Hartman, 69, wife of the driver, and the girl were treated at Salem Central Clinic for neck injuries. Mayberry was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Miss Joyce Frye Becomes Bride Of William W. Smith

Miss Joyce Carol Frye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frye, 1836 Montana Ave., became the bride of William Wallace Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Wellsville R.D. 1, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

The Rev. Harold S. Estell, pastor, officiated for the ceremony before an altar banked with palms and ferns. Mrs. Elda Forester played a half-hour recital of organ music. Mrs. Norma Windle, aunt of the bride, sang "At Dawning" and "Wither Thou Goest" preceding the ceremony and "God Has Not Promised" as the couple exchanged rings.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a round neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Her butterfly veil was attached to a crown of pearls and crystals. She wore a crystal pendant, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible topped with three white orchids tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Imogene Knight of Lexington, Ky., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Vicky Windle, another cousin, bridesmaid. They wore ballerina-length gowns of turquoise taffeta with matching headpieces and shoes. Their Colonial bouquets featured orange delight rosebuds and baby mums.

Ivy Carroll, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a poudre blue dress with a white pinafore. A band of yellow rosebuds formed her headpiece.

Terry Brandt, cousin of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Bettis and David Alford.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath of peacock blue wool and the bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit. White accessories and yellow rosebud corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 100 followed at the Mary Patterson Memorial. A four-tier cake, made by Mrs. Bessie Bailey, centered the buffet table. It was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Aides were Mrs. Janet Carroll, Mrs. Pat Todd, Mrs. Flossie Bryson, Miss Edith Bowen and Mrs. Naomi Dailey.

Guests were from Rochester, Alliance, Ohio View, Wellsville and Kentucky.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and her husband from Wellsville High School. Both are graduates of Ohio Valley Business College.

The bride is employed at the A. J. Olsen Co. and her husband as a clerk-typist with the Blaw-Knox Co. of Pittsburgh.

The newlyweds are residing at 1978 Lisbon St.

ALL OHIO newspapers respect the qualifications of JOHN MARSHALL BRILEY For U. S. Senate

SANDUSKY REGISTER, October 10 ". . . A forthright man like Briley in the Senate would insure another strong spine where it most would count."

TOLEDO BLADE, October 11 "Before a union audience . . . he demonstrated the thoughtful understanding and familiarity with which he approaches issues bearing on unemployment security, job opportunities, medical aid to the aged, and other bread-and-butter questions of vital concern to working men and women everywhere."

STEUBENVILLE HERALD-STAR, October 26 "Mr. Briley . . . made a good case for himself . . . ignited the imagination of voters to an appreciation of his qualifications, which include all the skills a good senator needs . . ."

CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, October 27 "John Marshall Briley . . . impressive stature."

CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, Sept. 12 "John Marshall Briley of Toledo is an able businessman who wants to become a United States Senator. He may realize this ambition . . . would probably make a good senator . . ."

DAYTON DAILY NEWS, August 11 ". . . Briley . . . is talking sense on the foremost issue facing the country . . . it's an issue he could duck if he lacked political courage. Ohio voters owe him thanks for his candor."

YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, October 10 "Mr. Briley . . . has never been afraid to face the issues . . ."

TOLEDO TIMES, October 22 ". . . Mr. Briley has a distinguished record as a businessman, a record of just and understanding labor relations and an unmatched appreciation of the critical foreign situation with which the U. S. Senate is so particularly concerned."

Hunt Pressed For Missing Area Woman

An Ohioville woman whose borrowed auto was found abandoned last week south of Parkersburg still is missing, according to Midland and Ohioville police and the Wood County (W. Va.) sheriff's office.

A sheriff's deputy said despite all the publicity given the case nothing has turned up concerning the whereabouts of Mrs. Ruth Ann Wise, 20.

She had left a note in the car, found Thursday, to contact the owner, Jack Smith of Midland, and a letter to her mother, Mrs. Charles Blankenship of Ohioville, with whom she resided. She told her mother not to worry, that she would call or write and would send for her son, Jeffrey, when she became settled.

No violence has been indicated in the case. It is believed that the clothes found in the car were the ones she wore when she left home Oct. 28. Her gray coat is missing. She may have had other clothes with her, authorities said.

A mailman in Belpre, Ohio, said he had seen a woman fitting Mrs. Wise's description hitchhiking north Friday about 12:30 p. m. When Smith reported the car missing to Midland police Tuesday it was thought she might be heading for California.

She and her husband, Dewayne Wise, went to California in July 1961 and she returned last January, according to relatives. They are believed to be separated.

Court Drops Charges, Gives Wife Warning

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff agreed today to dismiss a disorderly conduct charge against a city man but issued a stern warning to the defendant's wife that the court will not be used as a club over her husband's head.

The charge against Raymond Redick, 138 Ravine St., was dismissed at the request of his wife, Bernice, who had filed an affidavit alleging he was intoxicated.

"If you want to feud with your husband, that's up to you but you're not going to use this court as a club over his head. Take your problems somewhere else," Judge Chertoff declared.

He also warned Redick it will be the last break he gets. "The next time an affidavit is filed we are going through with it regardless," the judge added.

ELECTRIC DRYERS than any other kind.....

Because FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYERS save dollars . . . not pennies!

Flameless electric dryers are the overwhelming choice of modern housewives—and cost-conscious husbands. Electric dryers are cleaner than other kinds. More modern. Comfortingly safe. So gentle to your clothes. Best of all, they save dollars, not pennies, because . . .

1. Their original cost is as much as $50 less than the price of other kinds of dryers. This saving alone would pay all operating costs for years.
2. Installation and maintenance cost less. There's only one connection; fewer working parts.
3. You save when you dry. Gentle electric drying action prolongs the life of expensive clothes.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo Coast Guardman drowned during the weekend while attempting to rescue four duck hunters stranded on a mud bank a mile out in Maumee Bay.

The drowning victim was Gerald Budlong, 27-year-old Toledo seaman.

A companion, Boatswain's Mate Francis Subisak, 28, of Pittsburgh was treated for shock and exposure at St. Vincent's Hospital.

The two were dispatched Saturday in a 14-foot boat to assist the hunters whose boat had drifted away. Budlong and Subisak were thrown into the water when their craft capsized in the choppy water. Subisak managed to swim to the mud bank.

Another Coast Guard vessel was dispatched to the scene to assist the hunters and rescue Subisak.

Budlong's body was recovered a short time later.

Wetlands, including swamps, marshes, bogs and prairie potholes, serve as giant natural sponges. They soak up water in times of peak runoff and help maintain the water table.

JOHN J.

CARRIGG

to Washington

as Your Congressman

from the 18th District

Elect a man whose first concern will be the needs of the people of the district, and a man who will devote every possible moment on the home front.

Dr. Carrigg knows that nothing from the government is free. The present Congressman lists as a campaign argument, a list of public money the government has spent in this district in the past four years, as though it hasn't been our own shrunken tax dollar coming back to us . . . as though every congressman in the U. S. does not have a similar, or larger, list to show his constituents.

Instead of the taxpayer thanking you, Mr. Congressman, for post-offices and roads, you should be thanking the taxpayer for sending his money to you to dole back to him.

Mr. Congressman, since you say you have done so much for the district, why not give us all the figures:

1. How much have the taxpayers of this district paid in taxes to the federal government during your 14 year tenure?
2. How much of this has come back to the district?

AND, in fairness to the taxpayer, why not tell how much you have spent traveling over the world in that time and how much tax money has gone into your campaign - - - - through "secretarial" help, printing, franked mail by the hundred thousands, etc., etc., in your effort to do the same thing for another two years.

We've paid for everything, and then some!

X JOHN J. CARRIGG

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to be the lady with the answers. Perhaps you can set me straight on something. I am a citizen of the world, in a manner of speaking, although New York is my home I travel extensively in my business but spend most of my time on the North American continent.

I am at a loss to understand why so many folks have a superiority complex about the city in which they live. I encounter it wherever I go.

For example: The residents of Dallas look down their noses at anyone who lives in Fort Worth. Tulsa people consider Oklahoma City a cow town. Any San Franciscan will tell you Los Angeles is a monstrosity. Seattle residents consider themselves a cut above Portlanders. Bostonians speak with such reverence about their city one would think the rest of the country is illiterate.

Minneapolitans joke that they need a visa to go to St. Paul. Toronto looks down on Winnipeg and Winnipeg turns its nose up at Vancouver. Cleveland snubs Akron and Akron high hats Canton.

The only people who have a right to be snobbish about their city are New Yorkers, since New York is clearly the most exciting city in the world. — A.R.

Dear A. R.: There's a wonderful old saying, "If you can't have what you like, then you'd better like what you have."

I endorse this philosophy wholeheartedly, and my hat is off to all who think their city is the greatest. But you, my friend, are mistaken about New York. The most exciting city in the world unquestionably is Chicago.

Regrets Slur

Dear Ann: I'm a very unhappy young lady of 16. Several months ago I said some vicious things about a girl I didn't know very well. Part of it was stuff I had heard from someone who is famous for having a big yap. I added a little here and there and made the girl out to be a tramp.

A few weeks ago I was in this person's company and found her to be downright wholesome and a lot of fun. I saw her a few times after that and now I have grown fond of her.

I would like to be her friend but I'm afraid to invite her to my house or make a show date with her because of all the talking I have done.

Believe me, I've learned my lesson. Is there any way I can go around with this girl without looking like a two - faced hypocrite?—MONTANA BIG MOUTH.

Dear Big Mouth: Yes. You can tell your friends you misjudged the girl and that you are ashamed of yourself.

And let this be a lesson to you as well as to all big mouths everywhere. We are forever the masters of our unspoken words. Once they are uttered —they master us.

Hungry Honored

Dear Ann: I've never written to a paper in my life but what happened last night was the last straw.

We were invited to an open house reception. The occasion was in honor of a golden wedding anniversary. The three children of the honored couple gave the reception.

When my husband and I arrived we were stunned. The only refreshments in sight were plain fruit punch, coffee and cake. There was not a casserole or a sandwich to be seen. There wasn't a nut or a cookie or a dish of candy. We've been to dozens of receptions and never before have we seen such a poor excuse for a table.

These people could well afford to serve something to eat. They have all been around enough to know that on a weekend when guests are invited to a reception from 4 to 7 they expect to get fed. Your comments are wanted. —CAN'T GET OVER IT.

Dear Can't: Sorry, your complaint leaves me cold. Did you go to the reception to offer congratulations and good wishes—or to fill your stomachs? Obviously it was the latter or you wouldn't have written.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

13 States Decide Reapportioning Change Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislative reapportionment, triggered by a U.S. Supreme Court ruling this spring, moves from the courtroom to the election booth in 13 states Tuesday.

While congressional and gubernatorial races catch most of the attention, voters will be making decisions regarding the makeup of their state legislatures in these states: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington and West Virginia.

Most of the proposals would give urban or suburban areas a bigger and sometimes commanding voice in at least one of the branches of state legislatures. But voters in Nebraska, Oregon and West Virginia are being asked to solidify or increase rural strength in the statehouse.

In most cases the referenda and constitutional amendments being voted on were in the works before the Supreme Court ruled last March that legislative apportionment is a legitimate matter for federal courts to consider. That ruling touched off some 70 lawsuits across the nation, most of them aimed at breaking rural control of the legislatures.

Some of the elections, like the key test in Florida, are a direct result of the ruling.

A three-judge federal court in Florida found that the present apportionment violated the rights of city dwellers because urban legislators represented far more voters than their country cousins.

The legislature came up with a plan which the judges approved and which Florida voters will decide on Tuesday. It increases the House from 95 to 135 and the Senate from 38 to 46 with most of the new seats going to urban areas.

Kennedy, Lodge Clans Turn Loose Their Big Guns

BOSTON (AP)—The heavy guns of the feuding Kennedy and Lodge clans are moving onto the fringes of the Senate fight between Edward M. Kennedy and George C. Lodge.

President John F. Kennedy is due in Boston tonight to cast his vote for younger brother Ted. He will fly back to Washington Tuesday morning without actively campaigning but the brief visit is widely interpreted as a move to enhance the candidacy of Ted and the rest of the Democratic ticket.

The President has sent an absentee ballot, but if he votes in person, his absentee ballot will not be counted.

Lodge's father, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, made his first campaign appearance Sunday night at a Republican rally. He took a bow but did not speak.

The contest between Ted and George is round three in an interfamily battle for Senate seat that has been held by either a Kennedy or a Lodge for 45 of the last 69 years.

President Kennedy defeated Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. for the seat in 1952. The original Henry Cabot Lodge turned back a bid by John F. Fitzgerald, the Kennedys' grandfather, in 1916.

FIRE

The One Word That Strikes More Terror Than Any Other!

When Fire Strikes The Only Help You Can Depend On To Save Your Home And Your Family Is A Fully Manned Fire Department!

Fire happens over 500 times a day — Another house goes up in flames . . . another family out on the street with a few pitiful belongings that might have been saved. It's a sad story . . . and the only protection you have against such a tragedy is ample Fire Protection from a fully-equipped and fully-manned Fire Department.

THE RENEWAL OF THE FIRE LEVY WILL NOT COST YOU ONE EXTRA CENT!

We are asking you, the citizen's of East Liverpool, to support your Fire Dept. levy again this coming election as you have done in the past. Now, you may ask—"Just how much does the levy cost me as a property owner?" One mill is 1/10th of one percent or in dollars and cents, $1.00 on every $1,000 accessed property value. In East Liverpool, you pay taxes on 1/3rd the appraised value of your home. So if you own a home worth 10,000 dollars the fire dept. levy has cost you approximately $3.30 per year. The same now as it did 36 years ago when the levy was first brought into effect.

Fresh Fruit Takes Spotlight In Markets; Apples Featured

Fresh fruit remains in the spotlight at area food markets, particularly with apples singled out as price leaders and the early arrival of the new grapefruit crop, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Packed in plastic bags ranging in weight from three to four pounds, apples are offered at attractive prices. The most common varieties are Red Delicious, McIntosh and Jonathan.

Grapefruit volume is already at midseason level, much ahead of last year. Marsh Seedless, Pinks, and Ruby Reds are the common varieties at this time. Most of the price difference on this fruit is because of difference in sizes.

A wide assortment of California grapes for table use offers additional choice of fresh fruit. White Malagas, Italias, Emperors and Ribiers are the price leaders, with Thompson Seedless and Almerias available at a slightly higher price level. Bananas and juice oranges round out the choice of fruits available at reasonable price levels.

Some fresh vegetable prices are up this week. Examples of these are tomatoes, green beans, peppers, cauliflower, and eggplant. Greenhouse-grown tomatoes are the principal source of this commodity. Prices on this product are still below average for this time of year.

The economical vegetables are — mostly the more hardy ones — potatoes, cabbage, carrots and squash. Lettuce and celery prices are a bit higher this week.

Corn and peas are a common feature from the frozen food counter. A large pack of these products assures a rather plentiful supply in the coming weeks. There are less green beans available from the new pack, however.

Increased shipments of live hogs put a further dent in pork prices. Fresh pork roasts, loin and shoulder, are a feature of this week's markets. Spareribs are also trending downward.

Poultry supplies also are quite adequate for market demands this week. Poultry fryers and turkeys are widely available on special. Although there are less turkeys still to be marketed than one year ago, a large supply of frozen birds will hold prices only slightly above last fall's level.

County Auditor

Voters will probably experience difficulty in deciding between two good candidates for county auditor.

Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, the Democratic incumbent who has been a conscientious, efficient public servant during his first term in office, is opposed by T. Emerson Smith of Salem, longtime county Republican party chairman and former member of the board of elections.

Mr. Smith has many years of business experience as a grocer and dairy sales manager to his credit and unquestionably would be a good auditor, but Kenny Bell has done such a commendable job that it would be unfair not to recommend him for another term.

Reprint of an Editorial, East Liverpool Review, Nov. 1, 1962

Auditor

Voters will have their choice of two outstanding candidates in the auditor's race.

Mr. Bell, in our opinion, has been most competent during his first term, capably administering the some 12 million dollars of taxpayers' money which comes into his office annually. He has demonstrated the ability and displayed the energy necessary to handle the important duties of his office.

There is also reason to believe that Mr. Smith — former county GOP chairman, a retired grocer and now sales manager for a dairy — also would prove an excellent auditor.

This is another case, however, where it would make little sense to remove from office a man who has performed his duties well.

The Review recommends the re-election of Mr. Bell as county auditor.

Couple At Lisbon Observes 47th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Babb of N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, were the honored guests at a family dinner Thursday evening celebrating their 47th wedding anniversary and Babb's birthday.

The dinner was held at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boso of E. Washington St. Also attending were another daughter, Mrs. Kermit Riffle and sons, Gregory, Scott and Drew, and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Daniel Babb and son, Randy all of Salem.

Pictures were taken of the family, the decorated cake and the gifts the honored couple received.

Ex-Residents Visit

Two former local residents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith of Tulsa Okla., and Forest Smith of Baltimore, Md., have been visiting their sisters and families in this area for the past week.

The sisters are Mr. and Mrs. Russell McArtor of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Armstrong of Furnace Rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Seth Phelps of Columbiana Rd., Lisbon, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lewton of Minerva.

A family dinner was given Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. McArtor, when the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Smith was celebrated.

Attend Homecoming

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith attended the Purdue University homecoming game Saturday. They plan to visit his brother, Donald Smith, at Canton, Ill., en route home.

Miss Eileen McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raney McCullough of Canton Rd., a junior at Kent State University, is one of 61 Kent students who will receive a certificate of achievement for two years of honors study.

President George A. Bowman will confer the honor at a special ceremony in the university union at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Also in the group are Charles R. Cole of N. Madison Ave. and Dianne Tomkinson of Cleveland St., Salem.

Couple Visits

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kearney and children, Carol and Pat, of Indianapolis are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Kearney of E. Lincoln Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Deane C. Phillips of Salem were Sunday guests of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Alexander and family of Canton Rd.

Mrs. George Ketchum of Lisbon R.D. has returned after a visit with Mrs. Don Cree of Darlington.

Bosphorus Swim Sets Record For Fred Baldasare

Fred Baldasare, a U.S. skin-diver formerly from Wellsville, set a world's record over the weekend by swimming the Bosphorus Straits at Turkey both ways underwater.

Baldasare fought tricky currents, chilling waters and heavy boat traffic to achieve the feat.

He is a cousin of Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare of Wellsville. He took 23 minutes, 38 seconds, to swim from the Asian to the European side of the Bosphorus near the Istanbul suburb of Rumeli Hisar.

After less than a two-minute pause, the 38-year-old swimmer turned around and swam back. The second trip took 22 minutes, 56 seconds. The distance is about a mile.

Baldasare, whose goal is to swim important European waterways underwater, plans to swim the length of the Bosphorus from the Black Sea to the Marmora Sea on Tuesday, a distance of about 20 miles.

He already has swum the English Channel, the Messina Straits and from Denmark to Sweden underwater.

Freedom Driver Cited For Crash

A Freedom motorist is expected to get a hearing tonight before Justice of the Peace Jimmie Knight of Industry on a charge of reckless driving filed after his auto wrecked Sunday about 2 a. m. on the Barclay Hill overpass on Route 68.

James Carter, 25, of Freedom is the defendant. Five others were passengers in the car, which was demolished but all escaped with minor cuts and bruises, according to Police Officer Arthur (Ray) Hendershot of Industry. He said the passengers were Mary Lou Loesch and Darlene Higby, both 19 and both of Baden, Kathy Goetz, 17, of Ambridge, Larry Hightower Jr., 23, and Carmelas McCoy, 26, both of Freedom.

Hendershot said the car driven by Carter sideswiped the bridge overpass, tore out three guard rails on the left side and then went over a bank on the right side.

Another Negro Eyes Enrollment In Dixie School

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A pro-segregation group is circulating a pamphlet proposing the shutdown of any state school the federal government "seizes by force"— then reopening it along private school lines.

The proposal by the Citizens Council of Jackson, Miss., came as John Frazier, 21-year-old Greenville Negro, announced he would apply for enrollment at the University of Southern Mississippi in January. The state-operated university is in Hattiesburg.

The University of Mississippi currently is the only state supported school in Mississippi which has been desegregated. James H. Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro, spent his sixth week of classes at Ole Miss today.

Four students were expelled from Ole Miss Saturday on charg stemming from demonstrations against Meredith, the university announced.

They were the first students expelled because of trouble connected with Meredith's enrollment. Others had been put on probation.

In Memphis, Tenn., the Commercial-Appeal said Ole Miss officials have heard reports that attempts would be made to provoke further incidents on campus to be used as a basis for shutting down the school.

Officials are certain that firecrackers and printed matter have been sent in in by off-campus sources, the newspaper said.

ARE YOU MAKING THE ANTI-ACID MISTAKE?

Important News for Every

INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, INTESTINAL GAS SUFFERER!

Now, for the first time you can apply the brakes to stomach distress before the trouble begins. Up to now, anti-acids have been used mostly to relieve stomach upset after suffering the pangs of distress. Now, thanks to a new, natural formulation called MIAZYME you may eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn and intestinal gas caused by poor digestion of foods.

If you properly digest the food you eat, chances are you will not suffer stomach distress. This is because of the action of enzymes, manufactured in the digestive process. When these enzymes fall below par—as age increases, enzymatic action may become inadequate, or, as medical science knows, today's fast, hectic living pace can create distress caused by stomach tensions—you are apt to suffer indigestion, gas, bloating, heartburn, cramps and other uncomfortable forms of stomach upset.

Why risk making the anti-acid mistake? Just two MIAZYME capsules a day is all it takes to help eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn, gas and open the door to new vistas in food enjoyment.

MIAZYME contains no narcotics! No habit forming drugs! No harmful side effects, taken as directed. So safe, no prescription is needed! Get MIAZYME today at your favorite drug store and break the anti-acid routine. Try it for 6 days on a NO RISK GUARANTEE. You must be completely satisfied or your money refunded. Regular size, $1.50. Economy size, $3.00.

BACK-YOUR-SCHOOLS

ON THESE 2 IMPORTANT LEVIES

The East Liverpool Board of Education is asking the voters of the community to approve two levies totaling five (5) mills at the November 6, 1962, election. The five (5) mills will be presented in two separate ballots as follows:

3 Mill Levy

THREE (3) MILLS—THIS IS A RENEWAL OF A LEVY WHICH HAS BEEN IN EFFECT FOR SEVERAL YEARS, AND REPRESENTS NO INCREASE IN TAXES. THIS LEVY YIELDS TO THE SCHOOLS, FOR OPERATING EXPENSES APPROXIMATELY $142,500.00. TO LOSE THIS INCOME WOULD, AS YOU KNOW, CRIPPLE THE OPERATION OF YOUR SCHOOLS.

2 Mill Levy

TWO (2) MILLS—This is a new levy for operating costs and would be used to increase salaries of the employees of the Board of Education.

EDUCATION IS AMERICA'S BEST STRENGTH!

The income from the new levy would be used to grant increases to the teachers and other employees of the Board of Education. The maximum salaries paid to the teachers of the East Liverpool Schools do not compare favorably with other cities of comparable size in Ohio and are even lower than some of the smaller neighboring communities. To be competitive with other cities the Board of Education must plan a maximum salary of $6500.00 for its classroom teachers. This maximum salary would be for teachers with a Masters Degree and would be attained after 12 years of experience.

FINE SCHOOLS + GOOD TEACHERS EQUAL BETTER STUDENTS!

We should remember always that the basic reason for the request for the additional funds by the Board of Education is the welfare of boys and girls of our community. Youngsters in our community should have educational opportunities as nearly equal to the opportunities enjoyed by students in other communities as it is possible for us to provide. Good teachers are the most important ingredient in a quality educational program. To retain good teachers and to attract others will necessitate an increase in our salary schedule, which could be provided by the additional funds from the new 2 mill levy.

VOTE FOR BOTH—

X	3 MILLS	A RENEWAL LEVY
X	2 MILLS	A New Levy To Increase Salaries

Write to Supt. of Schools for "Fact Sheets" regarding need for passage of school operating levies.

10 Chester Scouts Given Awards

The famed "God and Country" Boy Scout religious awards were presented to these 10 Chester youths at a special program Sunday night at the Chester First Christian Church.

Rev. Gleaton, pastor of the church, presented the awards to the boys, who include four sets of brothers.

Some 300 attended the event, at which Bennett Taylor, council executive, was guest speaker. Sixteen Scout troops and Cub Scout packs from the district were among guests.

The presentation marked one of the largest groups ever to receive the award in the area and was the first time the awards were given in the Chester church.

Parents of the boys honored include Mr. and Mrs. Carl Price, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pattison, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kell.

Refreshments were served afterward by mothers of the scouts.

Truck Crash Hurts Youths

Two city teen - agers were injured when their pickup truck upset along Route 66 a mile south of Newell at 12:35 a.m. today, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

James Pillar, 18, of 2135 Harvey Ave., the driver, told deputies he lost control after being forced off the highway by another vehicle.

A service station employe, Pillar suffered a mild concussion and is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital.

A passenger, Vincent McKinnon, 19, of 1606 Alpha St., received a laceration of the right hand and contusions and a sprain of the neck. He also is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital.

Deputies said the 1957 model truck, which was headed north, was demolished. Pillar was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control, deputies added.

The crash was the lone traffic accident investigated over the weekend by the office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

4 In Irondale Return

Mrs. Raymond Patton and Miss Elizabeth Fortune of Irondale attended a meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star last week in Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Quenton Henderson and Patton attended on Thursday.

Mrs. Willis Frampton visited over the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Slates of East Liverpool.

10-Day Term Given Driver

An Irondale man, who admitted he has not had a driver's license in the six years he has resided in Ohio, was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail today after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of driving without an operator's permit.

The jail term was handed Howard Russell, who also drew a fine of $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a speeding charge. Russell was cited at 7:22 p. m. Friday on W. 8th St., police said.

Howard D. McDonald, 447 Penn Ave., Midland, was fined $50 and costs after pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge. McDonald was cited Oct. 28 by police after an East End crash in which 12 were injured.

John R. Stewart, 415 College St., was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. He was cited Saturday at 10:25 p. m. by the State Highway Patrol.

Sentencing of Lester E. Russell, 402 Walnut St., who pleaded guilty to an old charge of failing to stop after an accident, was continued by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff until Nov. 14.

Judge Chertoff agreed to delay sentencing to permit the defendant and Hazel P. Costello, 711 Cadmus St., to work out arrangements for damages growing out of a collision March 8. She filed the charge March 12.

Hancock Waits Vote

5 Amendments On W.Va. Ballot

Five proposed amendments to West Virginia's Constitution await Hancock County voters in Tuesday's election.

They will appear on the ballot in this order: Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment, State Executive and Budget Amendment, Sheriff's Succession Amendment, Fair Representation Amendment and Legislative Amendment.

—:—

FOLLOWING is a synopsis of each of the five proposed amendments.

Alcoholic Liquor Control — ratification, or placing an X in the space designated as a vote for the amendment, would not by itself change the liquor control system because the satutory laws under which it operates would still be on the books.

But ratification would give the Legislature power to change the laws. Repealing of the constitution's present ban against sale of liquor for consumption in a "public place" would enable the Legislature to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink.

If the voters approve the amendment, the Legislature undoubtedly will undertake to change the law accordingly, presumably at the 1963 session.

UNDER THE proposed amendment, any action by the Legislature to legalize liquor-by-the-drink would have to include provision for county and municipal option elections. All but nine of the state's 55 counties, including Hancock, are "wet."

Any law passed by the Legislature legalizing liquor-by-the-drink also would be required to include these other provisions:

1. Restrict sales to restaurants, hotels, clubs and similar facilities such as park lodges operated by the state or cities, railroad dining cars and airplanes.

2. Prohibit Sunday sales and sales before noon and after midnight on other days.

3. Limit licenses to one for each 1,000 persons in a county, except that three additional licenses would be permitted in counties under 10,000. Hancock's population is over 29,000.

But Hancock County would also be eligible for "extra" licenses outside these limits for a race track and state and municipal facilities such as parks. The same person could not hold more than one license.

4. Require the Legislature to appropriate each year for schools at least half the excise and license tax revenue from liquor sales.

While the amendment doesn't require it, the Legislature undoubtedly would retain the present state liquor store system, which makes a net profit of some $9 million a year. To protect the state monopoly and its revenues, the Legislature probably would require the by-the-drink outlets to buy their liquor from state stores.

State Executive and Budget — This amendment is the most complex of the five and next to the Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment, has proved the most controversial.

IF APPROVED by the voters, the amendment would make these changes:

1. Permit the governor, who may not now succeed himself, to serve two successive terms.

2. Require the Legislature to consolidate some 90 departments, boards and commissions into "not more than 20 principal departments, "grouped according to function.

3. Adopt an "executive budget" type of fiscal operation, which most states now have. This means the governor would have sole responsibility of drafting the proposed state budget for submission to the Legislature every January. This is now the job of the Board of Public Works, on which the governor is only one of seven members.

OPPONENTS of this amendment include the Hancock County Classroom Teachers Association, and the Hancock County Education Association, in addition to their state affiliates.

Two terms for the governor and the requirement for consolidation of the governmental patchwork have not stirred up much opposition. Nearly all the arguments have been about the amendment's budget provisions.

Sheriff's Succession — This proposed amendment would permit a sheriff to succeed himself in office once. He could serve not more than eight full successive years. After the lapse of a full term, he then would again be eligible to serve as sheriff if he has served as a deputy sheriff during the immediately preceding four years. County Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny is presently limited to four years.

Fair Representation — Basically, approval of this amendment would mean another seat in the House of Delegates for Hancock County, for a total of two.

THE LONG-followed guarantee of at least one delegate to a county would be written into the Constitution with approval. The long-ignored requirement of grouping small counties into districts to share delegates would be rescinded.

Defeat of the amendment would leave the Constitutional provisions on apportionment as they are. An example is this: Under the present House apportionment, the population per delegate ranges from 4,391 for Wirt County to 39,615 for Hancock County. Each of these counties has one delegate, but Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester represents more than nine times the population of the Wirt delegate's constituency.

Thus, approval of the amendment would mean a second seat for Hancock County in line with the 1960 subsequent House reapportionment based on the 1960 census.

Legislative — This proposal contains three major provisions:

1. To deny a seat in the Legislature to any person who is an employe of the state.

—:—

2. TO LIMIT the 30-day budget session to consideration of the budget bill and revenue measures, removing from the governor the authority and responsibility to proclaim emergency measures for legislative consideration. The presumption is that in the 30-day sessions the Legislature has been called on to consider too many controversial matters and a 30-day session offers insufficient time for adequate consideration of such measures.

3. To enable the Legislators to vote themselves an allowance for their living expenses while in session, in addition to their $1,500-a-year salaries.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Young Husband Can't Stand Fat Women

Over the years I have been writing this column, I have received an occasional letter from a parent about a child four, eight or much older, who has great fear about dental treatment. Some of the accounts were pathetic. There is a rapidly increasing number of dentists who have great skill in winning the cooperation of children, even of some who have acquired extreme fears. These dentists have ways which win the friendship and confidence of the child. They take plenty of time to do so. They find ways to treat the child painlessly. A few dentists gain so much satisfaction from success with children that they prefer to specialize in this direction.

BUT AS A RULE, the dentist who does so, excepting an orthodontic work, is a kind of philanthropic idealist. He tends to keep his own earnings low. He can't hope for many cases among children who will need dentures, which obviously are the more profitable financially. Just taking enough time and patience means that he treats fewer persons.

It does not occur to the average parent that the more time the dentist spends to win the child's co-operation, the greater his charges should be. Indeed, some parents suppose that the charge for children should even be smaller than for adults.

As you can see, parents need to be educated to expect to pay in accordance with the skill and time employed by the dentist on their child and dentists need to be more ready to practice parents in this expectation.

When you first take your child, around the age of two, to the dentist and every six months thereafter, you will want this dentist to use as much time as necessary to win the child's confidence and cooperation. Make clear to him you expect him to do so and to charge accordingly.

ON YOUR CHILD'S first trip, the dentist will aim to get him comfortably acquainted, showing him a few of the gadgets, looking quickly at his teeth but being sure to give no treatment with possible pain. As a rule, this dentist is glad when the parent, after the first few visits, goes shopping or elsewhere while leaving the youngster with him alone.

He may have a toy to give this child as he leaves. A certain child, two and a half, having had such a delightful visit with the dentist kept asking for weeks afterwards when he could go to see the dentist again. Some children, by the age of seven or nine, like to make and meet their own dental appointments.

My bulletins, "Fears in Children", "Stubborness" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

52 Congressmen Due Replacement In Tuesday Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The oldest congressman and three other octogenarians are among 52 members of Congress who are certain to be replaced when the new session convenes next January.

They either have retired to private life, are seeking other office, or were defeated in primary elections.

Less than half of the 52 are bowing out of public office voluntarily. They include the oldest member of Congress, Rep. Brent Spence, D-Ky., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee. Spence will be 88 on Dec. 24.

Three House Republicans, John Taber of New York, 82; Clare Hoffman of Michigan, 87, and Noah Mason of Illinois, 80, are the other octogenarians quitting on their own. They have been in Congress long enough to qualify for hefty pensions—around $18,000 a year in the case of Spence and Taber.

Seventeen other senators and representatives have made their own decisions to return to private life.

Nine members have abandoned their House seats to seek senatorships. Another is running for governor and one is seeking a state Supreme Court post.

Seventeen House members and one senator were victims of primary election or convention defeats.

Twelve representatives lost nominations to succeed themselves.

At the height of the middle Ages, the Mainz, Germany, archbishops held such political power that they literally presided over the Reich's destinies.

Briley Sees Self As Conservative And Constructive

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Marshall Briley, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, says he considers himself a "constructive conservative — someone with a positive approach to problems."

The Toledo industrialist made the remark Sunday night in television appearance in which he answered questions from Robert B. Krupansky, a former Ohio liquor director and a former Common Pleas Court judge here.

Briley said he has a background of 20 years in active legal practice and 10 years in active management as a foundation of practical experience in contrast with Sen. Frank J. Lausche's purely political background. He is trying to unseat Lausche in Tuesday's election.

Briley said there is a need for complete reform and overhaul of the tax structure so that money would be left for business to reinvest and for others to have money left after paying taxes.

Beaver Check Set On Unlicensed Dogs

Richard L. Taafe, Beaver County dog officer said a door-to-door check will be made, beginning Nov. 12, of dog owners who have not purchased tags for every dog six months or older.

He said no exception will be made.

Owners of unlicensed dogs will be prosecuted. The fine for each dog is $5 to $100. Thirty days in jail may also be the penalty. The costs of prosecution will also be assessed against the owner found harboring or allowing unlicensed dogs to remain on or about the premises.

A recent check of dog license records disclosed that 1,891 owners of dogs have failed to purchase their 1962 tags.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Gradual moderation of the unseasonably cold weather of the last few weeks expected, but temperatures for the next five days will still average four to six degrees below normal. Normal high 52-53, normal low 34-38. Cool through mid-week, minor day—to—day temperature changes, followed by warming trend end of week. Precipitation will average one-tenth to two-tenths of an inch melted as scattered showers or snow flurries mid-week, again about end of week.

It's Rare Complaint: He Wants To Pay More

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A man walked into the Pima County assessor's office in Tucson and said he had a complaint.

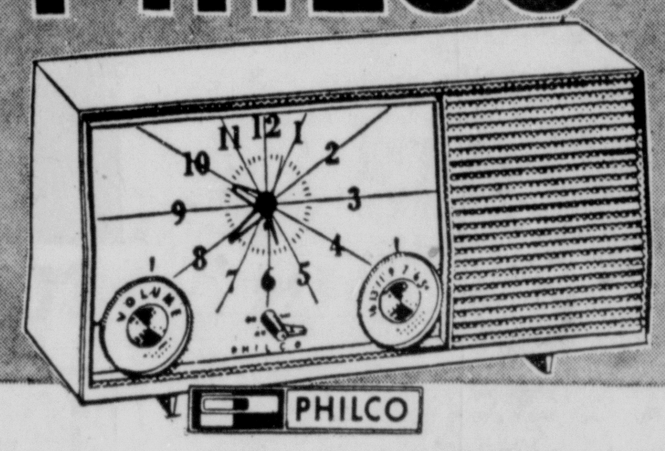

A weary clerk braced himself and asked, "What's the trouble?"

The man answered, "I been paying taxes on 37 acres of land. Just had a survey made. I really own 40 acres. I wish you would correct your figures so I can pay my fair share."

Excuse By Youth, 17, Wouldn't Go In East

WICKENBURG, Ariz. (AP) — This excuse would never work in the East, but for Pete Melapanes, 17, it was a reasonable explanation for being late to Wickenburg High School.

The excuse read, "The stage was delayed."

Melapanes is one of a dozen students who rides a stagecoach from the Slash Bar K Ranch northeast of town to school. The ranch foreman said the trips keep the horses exercised.

Boy Dies At Columbus When Hit By Cruiser

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A mother and her 5-year-old son, cutting across a Columbus street to report an automobile accident, were struck Sunday night by a police cruiser going to the scene of another accident.

The boy, Clay Allen Borders, died in Children's Hospital about four hours after the accident. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Borders, was reported in fair condition at Grant Hospital.

Police said the officer, Patrolman Wilber Ehlers, 32, has been exonerated. Ehlers said he was going iess than 25 miles an hour when the pair suddenly started across the wet street in front of him. They were not in a cross walk.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

RELATIVE TO THE SALE, PROCESSING OR RENDITION OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES, PRODUCTS, AND SERVICES ON SUNDAY.

(Proposed by Initiative Petition)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

Proposing to amend Article I of the Constitution of the State of Ohio by adopting a section to be designated as Section 21, to read as follows:

Article I

Section 21. No statute, ordinance or regulation shall be passed or enforced whereby the sale, processing or rendition of the following commodities, products, or services shall be prohibited on Sunday or any other day of the week, to wit: gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public means of transportation or any other public utility service or product; newspapers, other news publications, radio, television, or other public communications service; household fuels; motor fuels and lubricants for automotive vehicles; prescriptions and proprietary drugs, and household medical supplies; products used for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products, any food item or food product for human or animal consumption.

Decorator Offers Painting Tips

If you're planning a fall color-lift for your walls, here's some helpful advice from Ellen Lehman McCluskey, A.I.D., one of America's top interior decorators who recently completed work on the restoration of the White House State Library.

She is head of her own firm and president of the American Institute of Decorators New York chapter and chairman of this organization's National Cultural Relations Committee.

On decorating in general she says, "Keep it simple. Keep it uncluttered. Don't try complicated color schemes just because they're fashionable unless you're very, very sure of your color - sense. Bright colors and experiments should be confined to pieces you can change if they don't work out.

"The non-professional can't go wrong and will avoid a lot of tears afterwards if she sticks to either pastels or very deep tones in her wall colors. It's the bright, pure colors that can turn out to be terribly disturbing if you make a mistake.

"LET VIBRANT color take over in accessories like pillows, one bright-hued painted chair, flowers, books and oil paintings. Too many colors throughout the house make the atmosphere jumpy."

Mrs. McCluskey thinks dark walls wonderfully elegant, but warns that one must always use two coats, preferably three, over the primer. This should not be white but as close to the cover coat as possible. She feels that this method ensures the proper richness dark tones demand and has a practical aspect, too, because if you go a little wrong on the first coat, you can always rectify it.

She has some recommendations for those who hire professional painters, too. "Have him mix the shade you want about a tone lighter than you think it should be, particularly with yellow and blue, the most volatile of colors. One wall reflects on the other and the color will always appear darker in the final result."

SEEING THE true color can best be accomplished with two tricks. "First, see that the color is painted on a piece of sealed wood. Otherwise, the shadings on the mixing stick may affect it. When he tries out the color on the wall for you, cut a large hole in a piece of newspaper and hold it up partially covering the new color. This way you'll be able to judge it all by itself without being distracted by the existing wall color. Try this first in daylight, then close the blinds, put on the lamps and look at it again. Different lighting, as you know, can drastically change color properties and you have to be sure you enjoy your home in the evening as well as during the day."

"One more thing. Insist that all the paint for an area be mixed at the same time so you're sure color will be uniform."

'Be Prepared' If Storm Strikes

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many weather forecasters have been tending dreary outlooks for winter.

Right or wrong, this should put home owners in the mood to prepare for winter emergencies, ready to "batten down the hatches". Those who have prepared to keep their houses dry, warm and safe are ahead though hurricane, heavy snows and floods pass them up.

Cool, balmy days make outdoor living continue to be inviting, but it's a good idea to put away garden furniture, cooking equipment, portable lights, lawn equipment and children's toys as the first steps in tidying up for unexpected weather developments.

Order cord wood and furnace fuels. Even though days of warning precede a storm, it often is difficult to get deliveries when companies are swamped with orders.

ONE WHO is in a new house, particularly in a low-lying area, should try to determine whether the cellar fills with water and who is available for pump service.

Some home owners find it profitable to invest in a sump pump, and in areas where power is lost for long periods, a home generator may be worth the cost.

Civil defense experts caution against touching fallen wires, even those that appear to be dead, after a storm.

They suggest opening a window slightly on the side of the house away from the direction the wind is blowing to keep windows from blowing out. If indications are that winds will be very high, as in a hurricane, home owners may prefer to board up windows.

When it is too late to do that, adhesive tape can be criss-crossed on window panes to help keep glass from shattering. However, that is a mess and should be avoided if other means can be found. Adhesive tape is not easy to remove from glass.

Storm windows should be examined for loose panes of glass or fittings that need repairs. Tight-fitting storm windows can trap rainwater between the inner and outer window, causing leaks through walls to ceilings below. Loosen the bolts now so that water can drain out.

DOWNSPOUTS and gutters should be cleaned of leaves and other debris. Loose roof shingles should be replaced. Chimneys should be checked and cleaned, especially if they have not been used for a long period.

Acquire potato sacks or burlap squares to be kept in readiness for covering tender shrubs. A bag or bucket of sand is useful for a variety of things, especially for extinguishing fires.

Fire extinguisher, flashlights and candles are necessary. Kerosene lanterns kept in useful condition are worth the trouble, offering dependable illumination with little fuss. A battery-powered radio is good to have for storm reports.

One university's college of agriculture suggests stocking water — at least one-half gallon of drinking water per person for each day it is required, changing the stored water at least every three months or sooner if necessary.

When there is time to plan before a storm, fresh drinking water should replace that on hand, and the bathtub should be filled with water so that it may be dipped out from time to time for bathing, dishwashing, brushing teeth and other purposes.

An emergency shelf could be stocked with water and foods that may be quickly prepared by heating over the fireplace, small charcoal grille or other burner.

Many foresighted homemakers cook large quantities of meat stew in advance of a storm so that it may be heated up over emergency stoves in case of necessity.

'Dirty' Doorknob Problem Studied

Question: I have two problems for you. The doorknob on our front door is made of brass. It had a shiny appearance for several years, then began to get dull. Now parts of it are tarnished. How can I remove the tarnish and what can I do to keep it from tarnishing again?

We are having copper gutters and downspouts put up. A neighbor says they will in time cause stains on our wood siding and other trim. Is this true?

Answer: The brass doorknob undoubtedly had a lacquer coating, which has partly worn off. It is those areas that have tarnished. Using a lacquer thinner, rub off the remaining lacquer.

Wear rubber gloves while doing this, since the lacquer thinner may be injurious to your hands. Next, thoroughly clean the doorknob with a good brass polish. The final step is to put on at least two coats of lacquer, thinned 50 per cent with lacquer thinner. This should last several more years.

As for the copper drainage equipment: it is true that copper sometimes develops a brown or greenish patina after long exposure to the weather. When this occurs, stains may show up on adjoining house materials. To avoid this, merely give the copper a coat of exterior paint. No primer is necessary.

Income Of $890,130 Listed By Thorofare

Thorofare Markets, Inc., of Pittsburgh, which operates an East Liverpool store and 85 others, today reported net income of $890,130 for the 31 weeks ending Aug. 4 on sales of $87,284,644.

The company said the income is equivalent to 76 cents a share. It added that it proposes to change its fiscal year to a mid-year period, expecting this will result in less costly inventory procedure at the low point of the summer season.

Marionette string - pullers were mentioned in the Hindu epic, "Mahabharata."

Steel Demand May Take Dip

CLEVELAND (AP) — The nation's steel demand, now near its fourth-quarter peak, probably will start falling toward the end of the month, the magazine Steel predicted today.

"The drop won't be a sharp one, but it's sure to be reflected in lower ingot production," said the publication.

Production in November is predicted at 7.5 million tons, or less compared with 7.7 million tons in October.

Output has been at a fairly steady rate for about eight weeks. Mills this week are expected to turn out about the same as the 1,768,000 tons Steel estimated the industry poured last week.

Barring a change in the international situations, the publication said the steel market may not rise much above its present level until March.

According to Steel, a move aimed at cutting in half the cost of hauling iron ore down the Great Lakes is being seriously considered. The proposal: Convert two ore boats into unmanned vessels and build a powerful tug to pull them. While one barge is being towed up the Great Lakes, the other will be at a lower lake port for unloading.

Steel scrap prices are now at the lowest level in 13 years.

Canton Strike Ends

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A strike by about 500 United Steel Worker's members has ended at Union Metal Mfg. Co. The men struck at midnight last Wednesday. An offer of 7.5 cents was accepted by the workers at a union meeting Saturday. The wage scale was not announced.

It is impossible to resign from the French Academy.

Harlow Curtice Dies

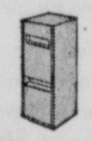

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, 69, retired president of General Motors Corp., died Saturday, apparently of a heart attack. Curtice headed GM, world's largest manufacturing concern, from 1953 to 1958. He had been with the firm for more than 40 years. He was born in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

FATHER AND SON--MASTERS IN MOSAICS

Mosaic work, once limited almost exclusively to churches, is enjoying a revival. It now is used in office buildings, hotels, theaters, public buildings, schools.

Even so, the nation has only about a dozen experts in the ancient art, which dates back to at least 3,500 B. C.

About 90 per cent of the major mosaics in the United States are produced by a St. Louis father-and-son team, John and Arno Heuduck. The elder Heuduck, in his late 70s, began his career as a mosaic artist as a 14-year-old apprentice in Berlin. He came to St. Louis in 1923 to work on mosaics at the St. Louis Cathedral. The job still is in progress, after nearly 40 years, and only 75 per cent complete.

The Heuducks presently have two apprentices. Arno's son, Larry, is a student at the Washington University School of Fine Arts and will join his father and grandfather when he graduates.

Mosaic artists work with bits of glass imported from Italy and Germany and known as tesserae. In row upon row of bins in their shop, the Heuducks have tesserae of more than 9,000 different shadings.

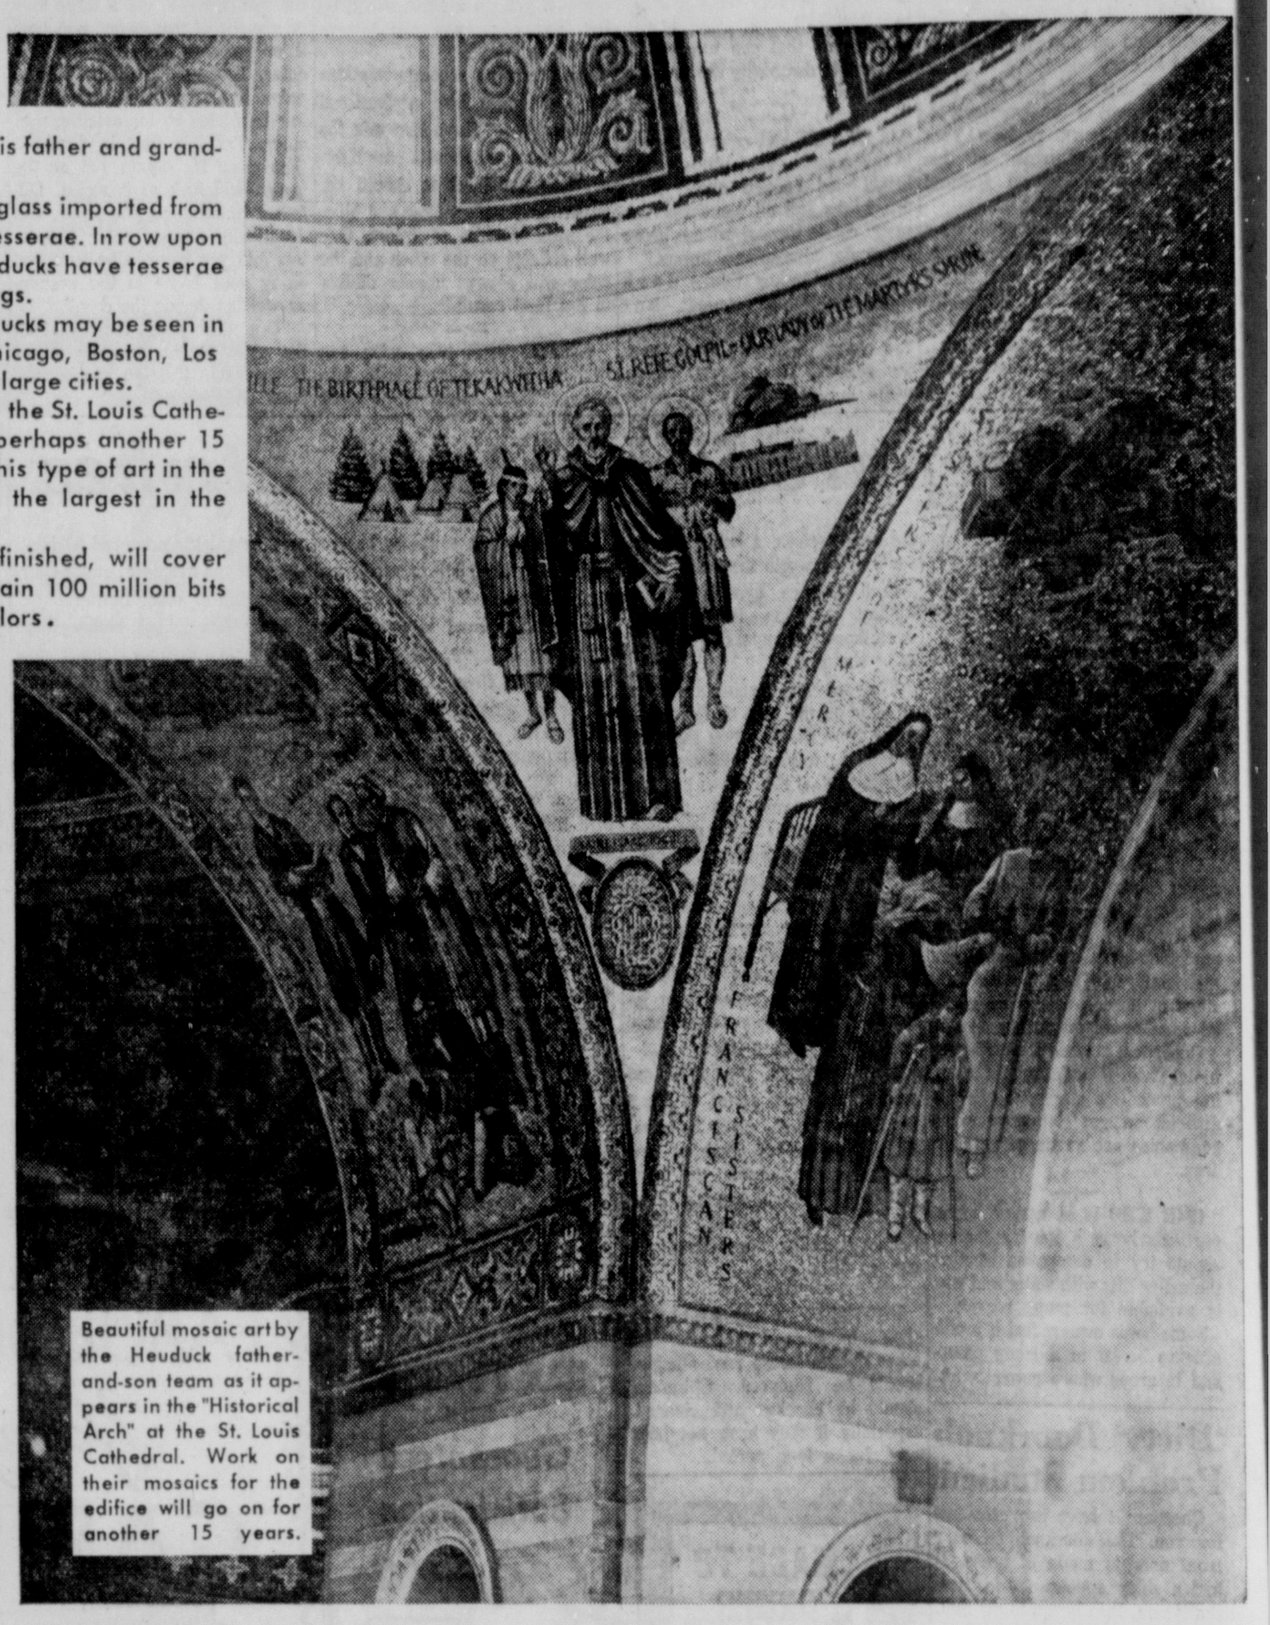

Major mosaic works by the Heuducks may be seen in many buildings in New York, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, Washington, and in other large cities.

The mosaic work in progress at the St. Louis Cathedral, which won't be finished for perhaps another 15 years, is the biggest example of this type of art in the Western Hemisphere and one of the largest in the world.

The cathedral mosaics, when finished, will cover 68,000 square feet. They will contain 100 million bits of glass of more than 10,000 colors.

In their studio, Paul Heuduck and son Arno take measurements from a detail of priest giving first baptism which is in the "Historical Arch" at the St. Louis Cathedral.

Beautiful mosaic art by the Heuduck father-and-son team as it appears in the "Historical Arch" at the St. Louis Cathedral. Work on their mosaics for the edifice will go on for another 15 years.

The elder Heuduck cuts colored piece of enamel, called smalti, for use in his mosaic work. This method of cutting smalti is same as it was 2,000 years ago.

Paul Heuduck and son with drawing for mosaic they're creating for Washington, D. C. Cathedral. Stand at right has various shades of tesserae which is used to match color of drawing.

Modern masterpiece in mosaics. An 18th century baptismal scene, which is part of the "Historical Arch" series Paul and Arno Heuduck created for the St. Louis Cathedral.

While Dad watches, Arno Heuduck works out mosaic detail of head. Small tin boxes on table contain various shades of tesserae.

With skill and deftness, unmatched by few younger men, the elder Heuduck pastes tesserae on paper design, in his St. Louis studio.

New Ohio Budget Now Takes Form

By PHIL GUNBY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Whether it is presented by Michael V. DiSalle or James A. Rhodes, the budget that Ohio's governor will submit to the legislature next year is beginning to take form now.

Whoever is governor in 1963 will make the major decisions that will stamp the form of the budget as it goes into Ohio's General Assembly.

Of the governor's role in the final shaping of the budget for introduction, state finance director James H. Maloon says:

"The budget is the policy document of any administration."

At this point, state department heads are turning in their budget proposals to the Finance Department. In most cases, division chiefs of the departments began work on estimates months ago, working with departmental fiscal officers.

Then, having seen their division chiefs' proposals and heard their reasons, it was the department directors' turn to sweat a little blood.

Under a drastically revised budget data-gathering program initiated in 1960, Maloon says "the department head literally is forced to evaluate which are the most urgent among a really endless number of choices."

On those occasions where a new administration takes office and some Cabinet changes are made, the new department heads must burn the midnight oil to learn what their predecessors have recommended and possibly to make changes.

In the preparation process, Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Natural Resources Department, notes that "we break it into 2½ per cent increments—if we got 2½ per cent more, we'd do this. If we got 5 per cent more, we'd do this and that."

Maloon adds that an explanation must accompany each priority listing. He says directors must also list priorities in the opposite direction, in case their department budget is cut.

The idea, Maloon goes on, is "to prepare a budget in such a way that the dollar cost of providing services clearly is tied to the proposals for providing those services."

A department head has to be scrupulously fair in determining priorities, says Robert H. Terhune, agriculture director: "You have to appraise your entire program. You can't lean toward the proposals of one of your divisions."

Those assisting state highway director Everett S. Preston point out that the department director must try to look ahead 2½ years in preparing his budget, allow for salary step-ups throughout his dement and keep an eye on federal programs.

Among other things, "when it comes right down to the director to exercise judgment," says acting director Robert K. Dean of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, the need to meet outside salary competition must be considered.

Eugene P. O'Grady now heading the Commerce Department, cites the value of discussions with any advisory boards of the department.

The overriding concern most directors feel for budget proposals is expressed by E. E. Holt, superintendent of the Department of Education, who says: "I think I'm as obligated functioning for the state as I would be at home."

After department heads prepare proposals, priorities, and justifications, the Finance Department staff tries to validate cost figures. Then follow hearings for additional explanation as to resolve differences, Maloon says, adding:

"Ultimately we get to a position where we set aside some things because, although they may be desirable, they are so far down the line in priority. We list them and tell the governor: 'These are lists you may want to look at.'"

Of the Finance Department staff, he says: "We have tried to say to them: 'You don't make the decisions. You simply develop the material on which decisions may be made.' This can serve any chief executive."

For whoever sits in the governor's chair and shapes the final budget for submission to the legislature, Maloon notes that "a vital consideration is the total money picture."

Department heads and division chiefs are among those who testify during the legislature's budget hearings. Once a budget is adopted, Maloon says of the department he heads:

"We feel some considerable responsibility after a budget is enacted to exert some guidance on the agencies to carry out the proposals as made. We don't expect people to get support for one thing and use it for something else."

Alabama Girl, 4, Dies After Beaver Mishap

A 4-year-old Alabama girl died Sunday night at 9 in Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh of injuries suffered in an auto crash Oct. 27 in Beaver County that killed her mother and injured her father seriously.

The victim is Mary Horton of Satsuma, Ala. The girl's mother, Mrs. Cora Mae Horton, 39, was killed when the Horton's station wagon crashed, into the rear of a truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike nine miles east of Gateway way Interchange in Beaver County.

3 Killed As Plane Strikes Mountain In West Virginia

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Authorities sought today to learn why a light, twin-engine plane plunged into a mountainside here Sunday, killing three persons and injuring two others, including an Indiana industrialist.

George Price, 46, of Lafayette, Ind., president of National Homes Inc., stumbled down a rugged slope of Greenbrier Mountain near this plush resort town to survive his second plane crash.

When he left the scene of the accident, his wife, Eleanor, and Alan C. Dibble, 50, advertising director of his firm, were alive. He even ordered a double hospital room when state police found him along the highway and took him to a hospital at nearby Ronceverte, W. Va.

Authorities planned to tell him today that his wife and the pilot and co-pilot, were dead when rescuers arrived. Dibble, in a state of shock, was hospitalized with cuts and a broken leg, but was expected to recover.

Funeral home attendants identified the pilot as Benson Newton Munro, 45. His co-pilot was Charles Edward Compliment, 31. All five aboard the Beechcraft were from Lafayette.

Price and his brother, James R. Price, survived a crash at Lafayette in 1951 when three others died. They were returning then from a hunting trip in Canada in another company plane.

Price was reported in good condition after yesterday's crash with cuts on his face and a possible broken rib.

Keep In Trim

Fear Of Dentist Eased By Kindness

When a young woman adds a fast 20 pounds and the fat seems to be glued on, she gets in a desperate frame of mind. Such is the situation with this girl who writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I am only 20 years old, feel 50, and look 40. None of the clothes I bought last year fit. I am 5 feet 4, weigh 140 pounds and wear size 15 or 16. My husband, being Italian, loves to eat pasta, homemade bread and cake. And there is always ice cream. I have two children, bake a lot. So it is hard not to eat all this good food. I've taken pills but as soon as they are gone, I re-gain.

"My husband can't stand a fat woman, so please help me before it is too late!"

YOUTH IS in your favor. The added fat is fairly recent and will come off quite easily. Instead of looking upon this as another try at diet, this time make it an adventure in happy living. Take charge of your life — you will be forever glad that you made up your mind to do so.

Granted, it is not easy to turn down good food. But if you take the first step, nature will come to your aid. Eat a little less at each of the three meals than you really want and in three weeks you will not want to eat so much. Try it.

The way to reduce is to build slimness through a protective pattern of eating that furnishes an abundance of vital nutrients as you draw on body fat for part of your fuel requirements. Eat meat, vegetables, one slice of bread, or a small serving of pasta.

At the same time, practice mental gymnastics. On the thin edge of sleep, create a picture on the screen of your mind — there you are, weighing 120 pounds in all the right spots. See yourself wearing a favorite dress in your smaller size. Picture this vividly. Just as sleep is taking over, get a picture of yourself doing stretch-bend-swings. See yourself enjoying them.

Through imagination, you plant the right picture. Then action must follow the mental exercise. With right thinking and advance planning, will power strengthens. If there is any "magic" in reducing, this is it — to plan in advance, picture vividly, and then go ahead eagerly to create the new you!

—:—

YOUNG LADY, do this and in a single month you can be eight pounds lighter and inches slimmer. By the first day of the New Year you will feel 20, not 50, and you'll probably look 18.

Swing the kids in swings, romp with them, be young, with them! Get a triumphant feeling that this is it! Pluck is better than pills any day.

Let us hear from you again.

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose to Lose Diet," and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

More Talks Are Held In Bakery Pact Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Representatives of five large bakeries and Independent Bakery and Confectionery Workers Local 19 planned to resume negotiations today in an attempt to reach agreement on a new contract.

The local had announced that a strike of more than 500 workers would be called at midnight Saturday if agreement had not been reached by that time, but the strike deadline was extended to midnight tonight during a marathon negotiating session Saturday night.

The five bakeries involved in the talks are Ward Baking Co., National Biscuit Co., General Baking Co., American Bakeries Co. and Star Baking Co. They employ 530 members of the union.

There have been no reports from either side on any progress in the talks.

Involved in the dispute are pension provisions, vacation pay improvements and wage increases asked by the union.

DiSalle Sees No Need To Change Ohio Tax System

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he sees no need for "any change in the state's tax structure."

Wrapping up his campaign for re - election here Sunday night, the governor made that comment in reply to a question telephoned in by a viewer of a television program in which he participated.

Appearing with the Democratic candidate were Thomas A. Burke, former Cleveland mayor and U.S. senator, and Ralph S. Locher, current mayor of Cleveland. Both urged support of DiSalle.

In response to a viewer's question asking his views on a state income tax, DiSalle said:

"We don't need it at the state level. We have a competitive advantage for new industries without it and should keep that advantage."

The governor said he thought the state was in good economic condition. Asked what could be done to reduce unemployment in the Cleveland area, he said that the state was far behind others in joblessness. Even so, he continued, Ohio is beginning a retraining program to offset automation's effect on workers.

Sen. Lausche Shows Steady Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Ohio's senior U. S. senator, Frank J. Lausche, continues to improve, an aide reports The Democrat, in Bethesda Naval Hospital, is expected to be back at his normal duties within two weeks.

Lausche, who seeks re-election in Tuesday's balloting entered the hospital last week after complaining of fatigue and chest pains.

A statement by doctors said the senator did not suffer a heart attack but tests have shown that "he had insufficiency of the blood to the heart muscle" precipitated by fatigue and stress.

Green Bay Continues Toward Perfect Season

The Review Sports

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 22

Pittsburgh Wins; Browns Tie Birds

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Green Bay Packers are rolling along toward the first perfect season in the National Football League since the Chicago Bears' mighty monsters of the Midway ran up an 11-0 mark back in 1942. There doesn't seem to be anyone around who is going to halt the Packers' blitz.

The defending NFL champions made the present-day edition of the Bears victim No. 8 Sunday as they won their 16th game in a row, 38-7. The string includes a victory in the last regular 1961 game, a resounding 37-0 championship victory over the New York Giants and six exhibition games this summer.

New York took over the top spot in the Eastern Conference with a shaky 31-28 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and Washington dropped to second place by losing 38-10 to the Dallas Cowboys.

In other NFL action, the Lions defeated the Los Angeles Rams 12-3, Philadelphia and Cleveland played to a 14-14 tie, Pittsburgh rallied in the final seconds to beat Minnesota 39-31 and the Baltimore Colts defeated San Francisco 22-3.

The Packers' solved Chicago (4-4) in the second half with the combination of Bart Starr's passing and fullback Jim Taylor's running.

The Giants (6-2) outscored St. Louis (2-5-1) three touchdowns to two in a furious fourth period, with the winner coming with 3½ minutes left on Y. A. Tittle's 20-yard pass to Alex Webster.

Dallas (4-3-1) rotated quarterbacks Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith in its first win ever over the Redskins (4-2-2) and each threw a pair of touchdown passes.

Pat Studstill, subbing for flanker Terry Barr, helped keep Detroit (6-2) vying for a Western title. Two twisting punt returns set up a touchdown, which he scored on a pass from Earl Morrall, and a field goal by Wayne Walker.

Frank Ryan filled in ably at quarterback for Cleveland (4-3-1), scoring once, gaining 85 yards rushing and another 119 passing. The Eagles' Bobby Walston missed a 41-yard field goal with only one second left that would have won for the Eagles.

Lou Michaels' third field goal and Dick Hoak's 18-yard run in the last 27 seconds beat back the Vikings (2-6) after Tom Christpherson's field goal had given Minnesota a 31-29 lead.

The Colts (4-4) broke open a tight ball game in the third period on Johnny Unitas' touchdown pass to Lenny Moore after leading only 5-3 at the half.

Denver Tops San Diego To Continue 1st

By The Associated Press

The Denver Broncos, dangerously close to being the worst team in the American Football League last year, are the new Western Conference leaders today because of an alert defense and a hurry-up halfback named Donnie Stone.

With the Broncos capitalizing on three San Diego errors and Stone crashing through for three touchdowns, the Colorado upstarts, who dropped 11 of 14 games last year, overcame the defending conference champion Chargers 23-20 at San Diego Sunday. It was the Broncos' seventh in nine games, and boosted them to the top of the West over Dallas.

The Texans fell a half game behind, losing a 14-6 decision to Houston in their own Cotton Bowl backyard after trouncing the Oilers 31-7 a week ago in Houston. It was the Texans' second defeat in eight games.

The Oilers' victory put them only a half game behind the Eastern Conference-leading Boston Patriots, who were held to a 28-28 tie by the last-place Bills in Buffalo Saturday night.

New York's Titans emerged from a last-place tie with Buffalo by beating winless Oakland 31-21 at the Polo Grounds in Sunday's other game. The Titans, with two straight victories, own a 4-5 record to Buffalo's 3-5-1.

Stone, a 24-year-old Arkansas U. alumnus, bulled over for Denver's first and second touchdowns, then scored the third and what proved to be the winning TD on a 13-yard pass from Frank Tripucka.

Crestview Registers 6th Straight Victory

Crestview High which found itself after the third game of the season recorded its sixth straight victory Saturday by topping Greenford, 28-14.

The Rebels had lost their first three starts this campaign but hasn't looked back in its last six outings.

John Cresanto crossed the goal twice for the winners on runs of 6 and 1 yard. The Rebels scored in every quarter and their record now stands at 6-3. Crestview closes its season at Sebring Friday night.

Saturday's loss left Greenford with a 5-4 mark.

Burke Paces Potter Subs To 8-6 Win Over Salem

East Liverpool grid teams made it a clean sweep over Salem this past weekend. Following the varsity's victory Friday, the Potter reserve team upended the Salem jayvees 8-6 Saturday night at Patterson Field.

The young Potters had to come from behind again in registering their fourth victory in seven starts.

Salem had scored early in the third quarter but a run for the conversion failed.

The Potters, with halfback Denny Burke, running well moved to the Salem four yard line where Burke smashed over for the touchdown. Burke also added the conversion on a run.

Coach Jack Bair singled out the offensive performances of Burke, Rich Stoddard at fullback and quarterback Bob Maltarich along with the work of the whole defensive unit.

The Potter reserves have one game remaining with Lisbon next Monday at Patterson Field.

Glenville Runner First In State Cross Country

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James Gilbert of Cleveland Glenville reigns today as the state high school individual cross country champion and Amherst High School as the top team.

Gilbert won the individual crown Saturday at Ohio State with a time of 9:35.5 for the two-mile event.

Amherst earned the team title in the 35th high school meeting with 87 points, followed by Dayton Chaminade with 111, Euclid Brush 139, Cleveland John Adams 150, Lakewood 156 and Worthington 165.

Making up the winning Amherst team was Tom Schoenig, Dennis Taster, Ken Greer, Jim Loutzenheiser and Bert Koontz.

Bevy Of Upsets Clears Bowl Scenes; Northwestern, USC Can Smell Roses

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A bowl is sometimes a household utensil which is used to contain soup or leftovers and occasionally as a hiding place for small change saved from the house money.

Sometimes, however, it is a very large stadium which is used to contain college football teams—and it's a long, long way from being a small change operation.

In respect to the second type, an unlikely series of upsets last weekend helped focus a faint glimmer of light through the muddy, soupy uncertainty surrounding which teams are likely to get bids for the New Year's classics.

There doesn't appear to be room for leftovers.

Ohio State, Purdue and Michigan State fell victim to full-blown upsets in the Big Ten, which made Northwestern (6-0) look big as the visiting team in the Rose Bowl. Southern California (6-0) whipped Washington 14-0, probably its biggest hurdle. It gave the Trojans the inside track as the host team.

In the South, Alabama (7-0) and Mississippi (6-0) emerged as the dominant teams in the scramble for berths in the Orange, Sugar, and Gator bowls. Alabama, defending national champion, unbeaten in 25 games and currently rated second in the nation, rolled over Mississippi State 20-0 while Ole Miss beat Louisiana State 15-7.

The Big Eight winner gets a spot in the Orange, and it now looks like a fight between Missouri and onrushing Oklahoma. Missouri (6-0-1) upended previously unbeaten Nebraska 16-7 while Oklahoma (4-2) but unbeaten in the conference, hammered Colorado 62-0. Their struggle for the No. 1 spot probably will be resolved in their game Nov. 17.

Texas regained the top spot in the Southwest Conference with a 6-0 edge over Southern Methodist. The Longhorns' 3-0-1 conference mark gives them the lead in the competition for the Cotton Bowl host, but Arkansas, 17-7 victors over Texas A&M, and Texas Christian, 28-26 winners over Baylor, are still in the running with 2-1.

In the East, bowl-minded coach Paul Dietzel got his Army team (6-1) past Boston University 26-0. The Orange Bowl has expressed interest in the Cadets, who have yet to play Pitt and Navy. Dartmouth remained unbeaten with a 9-0 triumph over Yale while Penn State beat Maryland 23-7.

Northwestern got another outstanding performance from sophomore quarterback Tom Myers in a 26-21 victory over surprisingly tough Indiana. Myers completed 16 of 26 passes for 243 yards and two touchdowns. Northwestern, currently ranked the top team in the nation, is shooting for its first Big Ten title in 26 years, but still has to face bruisers Wisconsin and Michigan State.

Wisconsin warmed up for its Saturday clash with the Wildcats with a 34 - 12 rout of Michigan. Michigan State fell before Minnesota 28-7 in one of the conference shockers. Iowa eliminated defending champion Ohio State from title consideration 28-14 and Illinois snapped a 15-game losing string, 14-10, at the expense of Purdue.

The upsets, which included Florida's 22-3 rout of previously unbeaten Auburn, left only six major teams on the unbeaten, untied list: Northwestern, Southern California, Dartmouth, Mississippi, Alabama and Ohio University.

Georgia Tech, still in the running in the South, got a touchdown and two field goals from Billy Lothridge in a 20-9 triumph over Duke. Oregon State edged Washington State 18-12 in one of the key Far West games.

Driver, 31, Cited In 2-Way Crash

A Chester driver was cited after one of two collisions in Chester over the weekend, police reported.

Dale E. Smith, 31, of 176 Carolina Ave. was charged with driving without a license after his 1956 sedan hit the rear of another auto on Carolina Ave. at 1st St. Saturday night at 10:40.

Smith's car struck one operated by Elmer Nelson of LaCroft, who had halted for a traffic signal, according to Patrolman Frank Fetty. Smith is to receive a hearing Tuesday night before Mayor Harry Abrams.

Minor damage resulted from a collision between a 1959 station wagon driven by James W. Swain, 38, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 and a 1960 pickup truck operated by Richard B. Rizor, 17, of 163 Montana Ave., Chester, on Carolina Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts. Sunday at 6:15 p.m. Fetty said.

The truck was halted for traffic ahead and Swain's auto hit it in the rear, the officer reported.

The New York Giants have seven veterans of 10 or more years experience.

Officers Probe Lisbon Mishaps

LISBON — Two weekend traffic accidents were investigated by village police, including one in which a motorist was cited for operating an unsafe vehicle.

A crash Sunday at 5 p. m. on W. Washington St. involved cars driven by John E. Adams, 18, of R. D. 1 and Bernard R. Smith, 29, of Leetonia R. D. 1, officers said.

Patrolman John Varner cited Adams on a charge of operating an unsafe car and told him to follow the cruiser to Village Hall, but Adams failed to appear and now is being sought, police said.

A crash Saturday at 5:40 p. m. on E. Lincoln Way involved cars of Richard E. Dyke, 45, of Negley R. D. 1 and Jack B. Donnalley, 31, of R. D. 3, officers said. Both drivers said the other was left of the center line, police said.

Dedication Planned

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University dedicates a new $2.5 million space arts building here Thursday and Friday. The structure will house the schools of painting and allied arts and architecture.

United Drops 6th Straight

United slipped to its sixth straight setback of the season in dropping a 25-6 battle to Springfield Saturday at Petersburg.

Springfield piled up 15 points in the second quarter and 10 more in the third period before United broke the ice with a fourth period touchdown.

Bill Schroyer scored United's touchdown when he smashed over from the one yard line.

Don Rauch tallied two of Springfield's six pointers one on an 11 yard run and the other from two yards out.

United now holds a 2-7 record and meets Carrollton next Saturday at Hanoverton.

SPRINGFIELD	0	15	10	0	—25

Ragan Victor At Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Dave Ragan put his second shot 18 inches from the pin on the 16th hole and won his second tournament in a seven-year golfing career—the $20,000 Beaumont Invitational.

It was this shot plus a hook by Lionel Hebert on the same hole that proved the turning point Sunday in a tournament that saw Ragan finsih with a 2-under-par 70 for a 72-hole score of 283 and $2,800 first money.

Hebert was tied for second pace by Don Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex., who had a closing 67 over the 6,656-yard Tyrrell Park Municipal Course, and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who finished with a 73. The trio each had 286 and each won $1,500.

Rated As Rifle Expert

SALINEVILLE — Spec. 4C Milton D. Rowe, 22, son of Mrs. Margaret E. Rowe, recently qualified as an expert in firing the M-14 rifle in Giessen, Germany. A parts clerk in the 92nd Artillery's Service Battery in Giessen, he entered the Army in September 1957 and arrived overseas in April 1961. He attended Salineville High School.

NORTH GEORGETOWN — Marine Pfc. Paul D. Kautz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Kautz of R. D. 1, has been graduated from the radio technician's school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn. He entered the corps in September 1961.

Mrs. John McGraw Dies In New York At Age 81

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John J. McGraw, 81, widow of the famed manager of the New York Giants, died Sunday night.

Death came to the wife of the legendary baseball figure at St. Vincent's Hospital, which she had entered last Tuesday.

Mrs. McGraw suffered a stroke last January but had recovered sufficiently to pay an occasional visit last summer to the Polo Grounds, where her husband had achieved his greatest fame over a riotous 30-year career that brought the Giants 10 pennants and earned him the reputation as "the greatest manager of them all."

Mrs. McGraw never lost her love for baseball and the Giants. In the years following the death of the "Little Napoleon" in 1934, she was a steady visitor at both the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium, which her husband had forced the Yankees to build after kicking the American League club out as tenants in the winter of 1921-22.

She often said her saddest moment since her husband's death came when Horace Stoneham decided to take the Giants out of New York, moving them to San Francisco after the 1957 season.

McGraw died Feb. 25, 1934, and was named to baseball's Hall of Fame three years later.

McGraw and the former Mary Blanche Sindall of Baltimore were married in 1903. They had met in Baltimore when he was playing with the Orioles.

Although McGraw was tough on the baseball field, his wife once described him as "gentle as a lamb at home."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I am sure that many people wash their curtains the year round. I always shake mine first to remove the accumulated dust. It saves getting all the dust in the wash water itself and removes the lint and accumulated residue. Another thing—I always spray a little cold water in my washing machine first so as not to set the soil in any fabric.

When baking potatoes . . . for those who love to eat the skins and want them real crisp. . . I use bacon grease.

Prevent soil in your oven by placing the baked potato on a tiny piece of foil when placing it on the oven rack.

MRS. W. O.

Cabinets Like New

DEAR HELOISE: I use a large piece of cotton with rubbing alcohol for my white enamel kitchen cabinets and refrigerator. When you rub with this, most of the discoloration disappears. Mine look new.

Please tell me how I can get the "line" from white shirt collars when the material is wash and wear and bleach cannot be used as it would cause the shirt to discolor.

DOLLY ROBERTSON.

Dear Dolly: Take a piece of dime store chalk (the plain old chalk our kids use on blackboards) and rub this across the "LINE" on the collar. Let it sit 30 minutes or so and wash as usual. The line should be gone!

We must remove the oil from the shirt before the dust and soil will come loose. This mixture causes the line. It may take more than one treatment of the chalk if the line has been there a long time.

Now, about using alcohol on enamel cabinets and refrigerators . . .I just tried this!

On the porcelain dishwasher it works beautifully but . . . on the enamel refrigerator, I seem to feel it took off some of the paint. I suggest you try this on a small spot first by using a dark cloth to see if any white paint appears on it. If it does, you will know that you are removing the paint.

Paints and finishes vary. Be sure to test first.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I remove lipstick from washable articles by pouring household ammonia in hot water. Put the article into this solution and rub strong soap on the lipstick spot. I launder the usual way after this procedure.

JANICE BLASER.

Charcoal Saver

DEAR HELOISE: If you use a barbecue grill after the school football games, a lot of charcoal can be saved by filling a sprinkling can with water and slowly dousing the coals.

The next time you use the grill, add a few new coals to the used coals, sprinkle the fill with charcoal lighter fluid and you are ready to go. The bag of charcoal will last twice as long.

Also, when using barbecue pits that are metal . . . line the basin of the pit with heavy kitchen foil.

This will reflect the heat, giving a fast fire in addition to allowing you to clean the residue in the pit by merely lifting out the foil!

MRS. J. BURNSTEIN

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

One Of 10 Most Wanted Captured After Chase

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Albert Frederic Nussbaum Jr., 28, alleged bank robber and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, has been captured here following a reported tip to the FBI by his mother-in-law.

Soon after he was seized early Sunday following a 20-minute high-speed automobile chase by the FBI and Buffalo police, Nussbaum became groggy and was rushed to a hospital, where his stomach was pumped.

A physician said Nussbaum apparently had swallowed something to cause the grogginess.

No shots were fired. A 22-caliber rifle, ammunition for it and two live hand grenades, were found in the car but Nussbaum surrendered without a struggle, agents said.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said it had learned from an authoritative source that Nussbaum's mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvester Majchorowica, had telephoned the FBI Saturday night and said her daughter had spoken to Nussbaum on the telephone a short time earlier.

The FBI declined to discuss how Nussbaum was located.

Nussbaum and Bobby Randell Wilcoxson, 33, of Delray Beach, Fla., who still is missing, are charged with participating in four bank robberies in which a total of more than $160,000 was taken in Buffalo, Washington, D.C. and Brooklyn. Wilcoxson, another of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, allegedly shot and killed a bank guard and wounded a policeman in the Brooklyn holdup.

Nussbaum undoubtedly will be questioned about the $1½ million Plymouth, Mass., mail truck robbery last Aug. 14. Boston police had circulated composite drawings of persons involved in the robbery. New England's chief postal inspector, William F. White said two drawings bore "a strong resemblance" to Nussbaum and Wilcoxson.

Railroads' Plight Draws Attention

CLEVELAND (AP)—It is in the long-range interest of every mode of transportation that the railroads be brought back to a profitable status, a noted industrialist said here today.

The plight of the railroads was discussed by Carter Kissell, president of the National Castings Co., in an address for a noon meeting of the Railway Community Service Committee of Cleveland.

The major causes of the railroads' difficulty are the result of government policy—national and state, Kissell said. He asserted that some of the causes are:

Inequitable laws or regulations which restrict the railroads' ability to compete.

Inequitable application of property taxes in many parts of the nation.

Laws and regulations preventing railroads from engaging in other forms of transportation and, at the same time, requiring them in many instances to continue operations which are unprofitable.

Competition from other forms of transportation which are subsized in one way or another by the government.

Relative's Death Halts Candidate's Campaign

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—J. Grant Keys, Democratic candidate for the 13th District congressional seat held by Republican Charles A. Mosher, has cut short his campaign to attend the funeral of his father-in-law.

Keys and his wife, Mary, flew to Rose Creek, Minn., Sunday for the funeral of Gerald Meany, who died Saturday.

Denmark Aide Dies

2 IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JULIA KERTESZ. In loving memory of our beloved mother and grandmother who departed this life 4 years ago today: Midnight stars are gleaming on a lonely grave, Where sleeping, but not dreaming, lies the one we could not save. In dreams we see her dear sweet face, And kiss her cold, cold brow, and whisper As we loved her then, we love her memory now, We think of her in silence, No eyes can see us weep, But still within our aching hearts her memory we shall keep. She bade none a last farewell, She said goodbye to none, The heavenly gates had opened, A lovely voice said, Come, And with farewell unspoken She gently entered home. Our dear mother sleeps in silence. We'd not disturb her rest. Sad and lonely are the hearts of those who loved her best. Daughters: Eleanor Logan, Julia Gibbs, Emma Gabona; and grandchildren.

IN loving memory of our dear father, WILLIAM J. WILSON, who passed away Nov. 4, 1954. Gone but not forgotten. Our loving memory.
Children and grandchildren

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to express our sincere thanks to Rev. Russell Mase, Dr. K. W. Turner, Dr. Wm. Will be satisfied with $700 per month, will be his own boss, will be paid every day, be 21, and have a car. Call FU 5-8831, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

WANTED
2 men for local area, not afraid of hard work and long hours. Above average income. Must own car. Write Box A-9 c-o Review.

Hess Cartage Co.
is hiring owner-operators for steel haul from Western Penn. to Ohio and Michigan. Must have good equipment and excellent drivers record. We pay Ohio axle mile tax and Federal use tax. Inq. 17065 Hess St., Melvindale, Michigan. Phone WA. 8-7600, or New Brighton, Pa. TI. 3-4020, or Chester, W. Va. EV 7-0205.

Man to fire furnace and shovel snow in exchange for furnished room. Must have other income for living expense. Inq. Jennie Troup 142 W. 6th St.

ATTENTION SALES PEOPLE
How would you like to be paid for a presentation rather than a sale? Naturally sales represent more money, but we pay on the very first presentation whether a sale results or not. Pleasant, dignified employment is yours if you can devote 3 days to learn our business. Complete expense paid training at divisional office. Call Wintersville 264-1628.

Junior Editors Quiz on GEOGRAPHY

QUESTION: Why is South America called Latin America?

ANSWER: South America is part of Latin America, but by no means all of it. Latin America includes Mexico, Central America and the islands of the Caribbean Sea as well as South America. There are 22 self-governing republics in Latin America (including Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago, which were recently granted independence by England.) There are also several colonies of overseas nations, which are shown in black on our map. The Latin American countries were settled largely by Spanish, Portuguese and French people, and since the languages that these people speak are based on the ancient Latin, the settlers as a whole became known as "Latin Americans," and their countries, considered as a whole, as "Latin America." About 1791, these countries began to fight for independence from European colonial power. A great victory in 1824 by Simon Bolivar, often called the "George Washington of South America," opened the way to freedom. But the former colonies had had little experience in democracy and suffered from violent dictatorships and revolutions. By the middle of this century, a number had established stable governments. The "good neighbor" policy, agreed on in 1933, pledged friendship between the U. S. and Latin American nations.

FOR YOU TO DO: Latin American countries are fascinating. They have strange animals, buried cities, interesting people and distinctive music. Learn as much about them as you can.

U.S. Buildup In Cuban Crisis

'Nightmare Week' In Washington

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Nightmare week" in Washington, beginning Oct. 15, was a race against the clock.

With unbelievable speed, the Russians were building missile bases in Cuba. Mobile, medium-range weapons, already in position, could reach 22 bases of the Strategic Air Command, the nuclear striking force on American soil. How soon would they be operational?

One photograph of a site near Guanajay, Cuba, shows three large bulldozer scars in the ground. But nothing else. Not even a stick. On the same site, photographed five days later, there are buildings, revetments, erectors, tents, vehicles.

This is for the intermediate missile. Range—2,000 miles. How can it be defanged?

On Saturday night, Oct. 20, Mrs. Dean Rusk, wife of the secretary of state, brought a carton of soup to his office. It was the nearest thing to a home-cooked meal he had tasted since "nightmare week" began.

An official told his secretary, as he left his office, "I'm just going down the hall." She didn't see him again for three days.

As they attacked the central problem—basically the problem of how much time was left—President Kennedy and his team had two great advantages.

One was military.

In a relatively short time, the Defense Department assembled and coordinated land, sea and air forces for a big operation. Obviously, they were in a state of readiness.

For one thing, some of the machinery put in operation for the Berlin crisis last year was still working. For example, the Reserve fleet destroyers, put into active status for Berlin, were still in operation. Duty was extended for Navy personnel, so that the usual high manpower loss was reduced.

Further, the Navy and Marine Corps months ago set up the plan for the annual training exercise in Puerto Rico. It rejoiced in the name Phibriglex — Amphibious Brigade Landing Exercise.

As the Cuban crisis began to boil, the ships and Marine units assigned to this exercise already were concentrated in the Caribbean. The commander was a Spanish-speaking native of Puerto Rico, Vice Admiral Horacio Rivero.

In short order, 6,000 more Marines were flown to the East Coast from Camp Pendleton, Calif. A supersonic striking force, the 19th Air Force—which was sent to Lebanon in that crisis in 1958—quickly came on the scene.

Thus, in a military sense, the race against time was not so desperate.

Kennedy's other advantage, visible in the conference rooms where the quarantine decision finally was hammered out, was that he had a close-knit team.

The Bay of Pigs, naturally, is still an aching contusion in Washington memories. That was the scene of the abortive Cuban invasion, April 17, 1961.

Nevertheless, in describing the conference machinery, one of the central figures harked back to the Bay of Pigs.

"We were in office only a little over three months when that one came along," he said. "We didn't know each other very well. The President had no clear sense of what weight to put on what each of us said at that time. This time he did. And each of us had a better sense of what was moving the other."

They examined contingencies, as well as the alternative action courses. They tried to envision everything that could go wrong. At one time, until further photographic evidence dispelled all doubt, they even considered the possibility that the Soviet installations in Cuba might be a colossal hoax.

Secretary Dean Rusk presided at the meetings at the State Department, which preceded those with Kennedy at the White House.

From the first, Rusk opposed invasion. He advocated a choice of action short of a maximum use of force. The eventual decision, for a blockade, was in line with what he wanted.

Along with speed, the need for total secrecy was of paramount importance. More often than not in Washington, the official secret has the life-expectancy of a fruit fly, say 24 hours. But in this case, the day and night conferences, the comings and goings, the feverish evaluation of new photo evidence, the troop orders—one of the biggest secrets in American history stayed secret.

Officials used side doors and private elevators. They stopped signing the entry-registers for after-hours callers in security buildings.

Kennedy and Rusk in particular contributed to the smoke screen thrown over the deliberations.

The President left Washington to make political speeches during "nightmare week." In New Haven, Conn., he cracked jokes about "my fellow Elis." He looked like a man having fun as he blasted the Republicans.

Rusk entertained the Soviet foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, at dinner in the State Department. (A decision-making meeting was taking place in the room below at the same time.) And he saw a number of foreign dignitaries, including the crown prince of Libya.

It was the week of the ticking clock, the race against time and the Russians.

Officers Seated By Women's Unit At Rite In Lisbon

LISBON — New officers were installed when the Lisbon Council of Church Women held a World Community Day Service Friday at the Presbyterian Church. Seventy-five attended, representing 11 participating churches.

Inducted by the Rev. William L. Brown of the Methodist Church, the officers are: Mrs. Carl Hull, president; Mrs. Harold Hiscox, first vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Clapsadle, second vice president; Mrs. W. L. Lewton Sr., third vice president; Mrs. Bert Dailey, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde Tschantz, treasurer.

Mrs. William Loudon of the First Christian Church, guest speaker, discussed "Deepen the Channels to Peace." Mrs. Donald Lewis sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain," accompanied by Mrs. Graham Kearney. Eighty sewing kits made by the women were presented to be sent to Indonesia.

The offering of $58.85 will be sent through the Church World Services to the Interchurch Aid Committee of the Council of Churches in Indonesia. Mrs. Sam Nold, retiring treasurer, reported $198.65 has been reported to date for the UNICEF collection from six of the 11 participating churches.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1962. There are 56 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1605, a conspiracy to blow up the British Parliament was discovered before it could succeed. The day is observed in England as Guy Fawkes Day.

On this date:

In 1626, P. Schaghen wrote a letter to the king of the Netherlands, containing the only written record of the purchase of Manhattan Island from the Indians.

In 1757, the Prussians defeated the French and Austrians in the Battle of Rossback.

In 1872, Susan B. Anthony voted at Rochester, N.Y., only to be prosecuted later for illegal voting.

In 1930, Sinclair Lewis won the Nobel Prize for his novel "Babbitt."

In 1942, Broadway song and dance man George M. Cohan, 64, died of cancer.

Mishaps Hurt Woman, Child

A city woman and a Wellsville child injured in falls were admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where five other area residents were treated after separate mishaps.

Mrs. Helen Irving, 1209 Jennings Ave., is in "fair" condition with an injury to the right elbow suffered in a fall at home. She was admitted Sunday noon.

Judy Hawk, 2, daughter of Elmer Hawk, 1912 Nevada St., Wellsville, is in "fairly good" condition with a skull injury suffered in a fall from a second floor window Saturday.

Brian Sims, 18 - month - old son of Frank Sims, 2200 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was treated yesterday afternoon for burns of the left hand received from hot gravy.

Mrs. Ina McCune of Wellsville R. D. also was treated Sunday for a cut of a finger suffered on a knife at home.

Robert Cheuvront, 2, grandson of Mrs. Emily Puckett of Hammondsville R. D. 1, was treated Saturday night for a cut of the forehead suffered in a fall against a dresser.

Auditor Asks Offers In $60,000 Bond Sale

City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate is scheduled to open bids at noon Monday, Nov. 19, for sale of $60,000 in municipal bonds — the last step in financing the city-operated off-street parking lot on the site of the former Ceramic Theater.

Council authorized issuance of the bonds in legislation approved Oct. 15. The bonds will retire notes previously issued to finance purchase of the building, clearing and surfacing the site and installing parking meters.

The self-liquidating bonds will be retired with proceeds from the meters. The bonds will mature at the rate of $5,000 annually from Dec. 1, 1964, through Dec. 1, 1975.
